THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA won the forty-fourth championships after a close and spectacular fight with Princeton. Pennsylvania triumphed by scoring 30½ points, Princeton finishing second with 29. Dartmouth and Cornell were third and fourth with 24 and 20 points respectively. The meet was in doubt until the finish of the 220-yard dash, the final event on the program. Princeton outscored Pennsylvania in this event, but securing second place in this race gave Pennsylvania the necessary point and victory.

This meet was featured by E. J. Thomson, Dartmouth, 1921, who won the 120-yard hurdles in the world record time of 14²/₅ seconds. The day and the track were absolutely perfect for record performances. Thomson was in front going over the first hurdle, and this lead he gradually increased until he was nearly three yards in advance of Walker Smith, Cornell, 1920, when he reached the last hurdle. So perfect was Thomson's form that he did not hit a single hurdle. His time bettered the previous intercollegiate record by three-fifths of a second, made in 1916 by F. S. Murray, of Leland Stanford. It also bettered by two-fifths of a second the previous world record of 14⁴/₅ seconds.
