The Joey Matthews Finishing Class

"Joey Mercury was one of the first and few coaches I worked with in FCW and has left a lasting impression on me. His knowledge and passion for this business is second to none. He was able to take my little experience and understanding of psychology and help give me the platform to grow and utilize the fundamentals he taught me. He has a one of a kind mind for what we do and I am lucky to have had the opportunity to be coached under him!"

- CHARLOTTE FLAIR @MsCharlotteWWE

"Joey's insight has proved invaluable to me in my career. As a producer, he has the ability to make any match good and a good match great. As a trainer, he sees the true potential in any performer and cultivates it, whether they knew they had it or not. His passion for wrestling is tireless, and his knowledge so extensive that after all these years I still look forward to picking his brain for years to come. If you want to be a jedi, you seek out yoda. If you want to be a wrestler, seek out Joey."

- DEAN AMBROSE

"Joey is the wrestling equivalent of a "Rhodes Scholar". Someone who's study of our craft goes far beyond just the technical aspects and delves deeply into the "hows" and "whys" of eliciting a response from a crowd. I have had the great fortune of being around some of the greatest minds in the wrestling industry and Joey stands among the very best."

- SAMOA JOE @SamoaJoe

Begins Tuesday July 25, 2017

"Joey would be able to teach us things in a way nobody else could. He had so many analogies that just always clicked for me. I remember spending hours in extra ring sessions with him every day. We talked everything from psychology, the steps on selling, and one specific time, took about an hour to teach someone a drop kick. But he did it happily. Joey is just so patient with everyone of all levels and is someone I miss being able to learn from! I might have to sneak in the door or his new school a couple times."

- BAYLEY @itsBayleyWWE

"I have had the privilege of working with Joey on every level. As an opponent, coach, producer and friend. I can can honestly say that without Joey I wouldn't be anything close to what I am now. He mentored me, and helped me elevate my work to fit my character's quirky nuances. He has a mind unlike anyone else's. He is a master of creating character building mannerisms. He has a never ending rolodex of classic 'work', but has also competed and helped craft all of the new school stars and styles you see today. Joey is a guy that knows how to make fucking stars! And more importantly has your back no matter what. Joey was a huge contributor to making me in this business, he is world class."

- BRAY WYATT @WWEBrayWyatt

At The MCW Pro Wrestling Training Center

"Joey has taught me more about wrestling and life than anyone I've ever met in our industry. In the ring, he's one of the smoothest and most refined performers I've ever seen, but what's most incredible about him is his wealth of knowledge and passion for pro wrestling. I cannot sing his praises enough as a trainer, a mentor, and a friend."

- SETH ROLLINS @wweRollins

"Joey Mercury was one of the first people I met at the WWE that believed in me. He saw something in me that I didn't even know I had. Joey always took the time to do a little extra work with me in the ring, to teach me ring psychology & always told me to appreciate my uniqueness. He gave me the confidence that I needed to succeed. Joey is one of the greatest wrestling minds I have ever met!"

- NIA JAX @NiaJaxWWE

"Not only is Joey an incredible trainer, but as a mentor, he's incomparable. I didn't find out who I was as a wrestler until I started training with him. Anyone can teach you moves. What Joey does is he breaks down the psychology of the business in a way that you can understand and apply. It's a consistently evolving business and Joey has continuously adapted. I wouldn't be where I am, nor would I be the wrestler I am if I hadn't met him. Top notch trainer through and through."
