Capacity Band Day Crowd To See Wildcats Face Lions

for the hotel in Lewistown, where the players prepare for each game.
 Hundreds of fans who thought a James Brown concert was more important to Penn State than its football team filed past the bus, snapping their fingers down Pollock Road.
 Perhaps Bob Campbell hit the reason for the pathetic turnout when he said, "A lot of people are taking Kansas State lightly, thinking they're not very good. But they'll be psyched to beat us when we go to play last week."
 Campbell was speaking in practical terms. Kansas State, the weakest team in the Big Eight for years, has apparently come upon better times. The Wildcats stopped Colorado State 21-0 last week, breaking a nine-game losing streak.
 But despite that impressive win, Wildcat coach Vince Gibson isn't talking upset.
 "We're not primed for any upset," Gibson said last night. "We're too young a club, with a lot of soph. I thought we played about as well as could be expected last week, but Colorado State isn't Penn State."
 The leading figure in Kansas State's big win last week was Cornelius Davis, the 210-pound senior fullback who scored all three touchdowns while gaining 50 yards in 16 carries and grabbing six passes for 72 yards.
 Gibson rates his offensive backs the strongest facet of the team. "We've got as good a set of backs as anybody," he said.

LEFT: GRABTING two interceptions last week, Lion junior linebacker Pete Johnson returns to try to improve on the mark against Kansas State today.

152 yards rushing last week. Gibson rates him "the best back we're likely to see this year."
 Quarterback Chuck Burkhardt, who had a spotty first game, is getting his second shot at running the offense.
 The Lions' running game will be minus its starting fullback, Don Abbey. The junior sprained his left knee in the Navy game and will not play.
 Senior Tom Cherry will take Abbey's place. He played the position in Spring drills and filled in during the Navy game, so he's no stranger to active competition.

Close to Best
 Campbell, who last week "played as good a game as he's ever played" according to Peterson, will start at the other halfback spot.
 The defense will be short one starter, as Frank Spornik is on the injured list with a bruised hip. George Kulka will probably start in his spot.
 The defense held Navy to seven yards rushing last week, grabbed five interceptions and recovered four fumbles. That speaks for itself.
 Kansas State will likely be a better team than Navy, and despite Gibson's comments to the press, they'll be skyhigh for an upset. If only 100 people turn up for the game, they might just hit it.
 Hope the capacity crowd estimates are true.

sh, Purdue Tilt as Football Card

Associated Press
 someone's asked "Ara who he thinks is going to be the best player in the game?" and he hedged slightly, "I'd like to see who comes out so after we do I'll which one played best us." The Notre Dame coach replied, "The Irish get his first look when the Irish beat his Purdue team." The Purdue coach retorted, "I'll give you one spot. The Irish will be a good one to watch." The Notre Dame coach replied, "I'll give you one spot. The Irish will be a good one to watch." The Purdue coach retorted, "I'll give you one spot. The Irish will be a good one to watch."

FOLLOWING SPRING practice, defensive and John Acker was voted the most improved player on the Kansas State squad by his teammates. He's one of the Wildcats' most promising soph.

Coed Duo Set For Not Play In Tournament

Two Penn State women have been chosen to participate in the next weekend's Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament to be held at the State College of New York in Albany.
 Mary Alice Neibel of State College, who this year is ranked third in Middlestates singles, and Kathie Mullan of Springfield, the Middlestates singles champ this year and doubles co-trainee in 1967, will both compete in the tourney.
 To be ranked and to receive an invitation to the Friday through Sunday series, the players had to participate in at least three major tournaments in the Middlestates section. If a national ranking is desired, the play must be in national tourneys.

Wills Won't Go

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Murry Wills changed his mind yesterday about retiring from baseball after being fined $100 for refusing to take a routine physical examination. He'll rejoin the club today.

Half-price to college students and faculty:
the newspaper that newspaper people read...
 At last count, we had more than 3,800 newspaper editors on our list of subscribers to The Christian Science Monitor. Editors from all over the world.
 "There is a good reason why these 'pros' read the Monitor: the Monitor is the world's only daily international newspaper. Unlike local papers, the Monitor focuses exclusively on world news—the important news."
 The Monitor selects the news it considers most significant and reports it, interprets it, analyzes it—in depth. It takes you further into the news than any local paper can.
 If this is the kind of paper you would like to be reading, we will send it to you right away at half the regular price of $24.00 a year.
 Clip the coupon. Find out why newspapermen themselves read the Monitor—and why they invariably name it as one of the five best papers in the world.
