Panhel Starts Open Bidding VP Candidates Give Views

Panhellenic Council voted last night to hold an open bidding period—an extension of the rush period—which begins today.

All coeds who have an average qualifying them to rush will be eligible to open bid, and those who are not already registered may do so from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow in the Dean of Women's Office, 111 Old Main.

The minimum rushing average for first and second term students is a 2.3 and for upperclassmen, a 2.0.

The Council also heard the qualifications of the three vice presidential candidates, Cheryl McCormick, Susan Smith and Barbara Clark. The election will be held tomorrow.

111 Students Chosen For Study Abroad Spring Programs

Names of participants in the 1964 Study Abroad Program were announced yesterday by Deborah de Levie, program director.

In all, 111 students were selected from more than 400 applicants for the program. Four national students were given full consideration and may be added to bring to total 115—the same number that participated last year.

The students, 39 were selected by the University of Strasbourg in France, 29 for the University of Salamanca in Spain, 20 for the University of Cologne in Germany, 20 for the Architectural Association School in London and three for the Slade School of Fine Arts.

The three students selected for the Slade School are the first to attend the institution, which is a branch of London's University College. Penn State staff members will be asked to send students to the school, according to de Levie.

Of the 111 students selected for this year's program, 73 are in liberal arts, 19 in arts and architecture, nine in education, five in science, and one in agriculture. The program was begun under the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

De Levie said only about 100 applications for the program have been returned to the Study Abroad office. She said that last year at this time nearly 200 applications had been submitted.

Final Deadline

Final deadline for the applications is Feb. 15, but students should return them immediately to insure adequate processing by the program, de Levie said.

From 200 to 300 applications for next year's program have been distributed. More than 600 students applied for the 1964 program.

Plans for the 1965 program are already being made and it is essential that students wishing to be considered return the applications soon, de Levie said.

The program director said it is certain there is much student interest in the program, but that many students have been delayed in completing applications.

Names of participants in the 1964 program, which includes 111 students, will be announced in one of four European countries, will be released this week, she said.

PSU Negroes A Rugged Pain To Equality

By JOHN THOMPSON

Negro organizations at Penn State have organized a "rugged pain to equality" drive to bring about equal rights and fair treatment for members of all races in the State College-University Park area.

The drive is being led by the Omega Psi Phi fraternity, which conducted a "King's Cup" drive to form a new chapter.

NAAACP now has 54 members and plans to seek an official charter as a student organization.

Chapter Goals

- To assist the national organization in its efforts to collect for membership.
- To disseminate a true picture of the American Negro and his economic and social problems through a series of lectures and discussion groups.
- To divest the racial prejudice which exists in many areas of the American Negro.

Organized in 1948

CORE was organized in 1948 to investigate incidents involving local barber shops. Its influence continued for many years but has now largely been replaced by the work of SURE and NAAACP.

Second Group

The NAAACP chapter is the second group on campus. The first NAAACP group was organized in 1948 but existed for only a few years.

SURE was organized to "promote equal rights and fair treatment for members of all races in the State College-University Park area," according to Jacob Heyman, group president during last term.

Volter Registration

Heyman is now in Atlanta, Ga., where he is a volunteer registration drive. Current SURE president James Conahan said he would like to see a similar drive to support Heyman and other University students in volunteer registration drives.

Several SURE members are expected to work in the South on voter registration drives this summer, he said.

SURE committees have been formed to investigate incidents involving local barber shops. Its influence continued for many years but has now largely been replaced by the work of SURE and NAAACP.

Other Groups

In addition, organizations of faculty and townspeople similar to the present Committee for the Advancement of Colored People) have charters currently in operation on campus.

Organizations like the past which have promoted Negro rights include CORE (Council on Racial Equality) and DARE (Direct Action for Racial Equality).

Freshman Sports Facing Extinction? New HUB Soon?

Final Building Plans Wanted Approved June

By NANCY EGAN

The administration is hopeful that construction on the proposed Hotel Union Building addition will begin within the next year.

Stanley H. Campbell, vice president for business, said yesterday he would like to have the architect's final plans and specifications for the project between now and June.

Once final plans have been submitted, it should be approximately another two months before they are approved by the Board of Trustees, Campbell said. He noted that the board, after okaying final plans, will authorize the University authorization to accept bids for the $2 million job.

Approved Last Year

Original sketch plans for the structure were approved by the trustees a year ago; at its meeting last week, the group approved a revised set of plans.

The chief difference between the two sets of plans, Campbell said, is that the new one calls so much for remodeling of the present building's interior as to be for the "addition of new space."

Revised plans were necessary, he added, to keep construction costs of the addition within the proposed budget.

The expanded HUB will include a lounge three times the size of the present one, a ballroom adjoining the one located on the ground floor, and basement offices and meeting rooms for organizations. In addition, a new service room with kitchen facilities will be constructed.

Campbell said the addition would be completed in two years to complete. He added that this project should expand the size of the HUB.

Trustees Approve Sketches For Four New Dormitories

Sketch plans for four new by 1966.

$8 Million

Contracts for the living units were approved at a weekend and dining hall building now in progress. Total construction totalled $8,000,000.

The units, ten-floor structures, will be located north-west of East Halls and will adjoin the existing units under construction, with facilities for 1,000 students.

East Halls area opened two years ago and now contains nine units now under construction. The new units are scheduled for completion in fall, 1966, which will bring the total number of units to 1,046 students.

East Halls will be scheduled for completion the following year and might be available for occupancy in 1967. The units will pad campus residence hall capacity to 12,300 students.

USG Winter Elex Slated for Jan. 27

Special elections will be held Jan. 27 to fill six vacant seats on the 28-seat Undergraduate Student Government.

Edward Abland, of the WDFPM Transfer Committee, reported that tests made with a transmitter on a trial basis Nov. 23. Further tests were thought impossible because of the short term test. The transmitter is being returned without additional tests since the trial period, has run out.

Abland said his committee is testing ways to transmit WDFM radio programming to AM radios in University residence halls. The transmitter on a trial basis Nov. 23. Fund Drive For SURE Head Starts

The fund drive of the Student Union for Racial Equality (SURE) will continue throughout the year.

SURE is raising funds to support University students engaged in voter registration drives in the South. Former SURE president Jacob Heyman is now in Atlanta, Ga., working in such a drive.

The SURE president also outlined the group's purposes and solicited aid from the prospective members.

"Education"

SURE will attempt to fight racial discrimination, Conahan said, by "educating" University students about the Negro situation and organizing the registration drives.

During the coming term, SURE will attempt to speak to numerous campus organizations, including the Graduate Student Association, about discrimination in the University community and in the nation, Conahan said.

Conahan addressed an audience of more than 50 students gathered for SURE's first membership meeting of the year.

SURE was officially chartered in 1962. Alpha Phi was originally formed in 1921. Although it has been officially inactive since 1962, it now contains eight members.

Approval Granted

Approval for creation of Negro sororities was given by University officials in 1962. Alpha Kappa Alpha was organized in 1963 and Delta Sigma Theta was officially chartered in 1960. Alpha Kappa Alpha was discontinued in 1958 because of low membership but was reactivated in 1961. It now contains 17 members, including its first white member.

Delta Sigma Theta contains 11 members. Before being chartered in 1960, it existed for several years as Triops Colony.

Omega Psi Phi was founded in 1924 but is not listed in the directory.

Two Frosh Schedules Canceled

By IRA MILLER

Assistant Sports Editor

Freshman intercollegiate athletic competition is apparently headed toward extinction at Penn State.

The University announced last night that the freshman schedules in basketball and gymnastics have been canceled.

Athletic Director Ernest McCoy is in charge of formulating all athletic policies. Lately, President Eric A. Walker can overrule his decisions; he prefers to leave decisions concerning intercollegiate athletics to McCoy.

However, McCoy recently returned from the NCAA convention in New York, which was unavailable for comment last night. It is known, though, that he is leaving the decision on freshman schedules to the individual coaches.

Indications are that this is a prelude toward probable cancellation of all frosh schedules. However, freshman athletes would continue to practice with the varsity.

Officials' decision on freshman schedules now rests with the individual coaches, but it appears that the University is moving toward a multi-lateral abolition policy along with the varsity.

Note of the coaches affected in the decision was given to Egli, Joe Tocci and Gene Wettstein, cared to comment on the cancellations, but wrestling coach Charlie Speidel said that frosh schedules will go on as planned.

Frosh Wrestling Unaffected

"I think the choice should be left to the coaches," Speidel said, "but I don't know how we would get our talent from where we are. It's a hard choice to make."

"The 30th year we're the only freshman sport going, we will continue as long as the decision is not to cancel it. I have never missed a competition or forfeited a meet since this year. I intend to continue (this is Speidel's 30th year)."

"If they start cutting them (frosh sports) out, it's just too bad. Someone will have to fight against it."

Reminded that the current frosh football games were canceled, Speidel said he thought it unfair to draft a blanket rule.
