Could we be the Aliens on Earth?

Good Heavening Listeners,

You are tuned into 33.3 IM, Readio the first ever radio on Print. This is your Spin-stress from Sirius B also known as RJ Melancholetta. Today's journey shall elevate us to realms unknown or your own backyard. The destination is unknown but the voyage is one that is formulated by familiarity. Adjust your mindsets to the silent sirens of Saturn and the voice box of Venus because our mind quest today enters extra terrestrial territories and our own human heart-core as well.

When we look to the cotton balls above, we often imagine the abyss existing beyond that turquoise canopy. A selected few however are adamant in their belief about the domineering Draconian or even the little silver men of Roswell fame.

We have so affectionately named these futuristic fellows : ALIENS. We must however question our own existence before we assume that extra terrestrials are indeed the foreign entities instead of humanity. A cat will always be a predator to a mouse because they are indeed worlds apart.

Are we Aliens to the Aliens who are Alienated from us as they are to us who are alienated from them. Could it be however that Mars is a place on earth, perhaps the earth of their birth? Could it perhaps be that we are all cosmic children of the very same mother ship?

My dear In10 voyagers, please do cuddle your E.T plush and note the differences between you and him, if there are any at all.

Are human beings truly the natives of this blue planet or are we as foreign to this earth as the little green men we call aliens? Who knows beyond a shadow of a doubt where the humble seeds of humanity originated from? All we know about our birth is Darwinian or “Divine”. Placing all our orbs in one spaceship must be mere foolishness and blind faith only serves to close our minds eye.

As you view the world through the tunnel vision that is your telescope of thought and you giggle at Marvin the Martian’s Outer-space antics, open the door for the sneaking suspicion that perhaps human beings too are immigrants on earth. Who did this planet belong to before Darwin’s supposed materialized?

Could Dinosaurs have been the Alien forces as we view in cartoons? Did they move to a sunny place where the planetary vibes were not so blue?

A curious thought that occurred to me sometime back was the fact that we humans could be the aliens on earth.

When comparing human beings to other creatures, we come to the realization that we are the only ones on earth who

- Wear a Dress.
- Talk, Sing, Read and Write.
- Get Married and Divorced.
- Drive the native creatures out of their habitat.
- Get Civilized and Cultured.
- “Go to a place and bang our head” by reading self-help books.
- Prey on all other beings.

I believe that we too are aliens like the extra terrestrials we often hear about. If they are Aliens then why aren't we?

Yes the things we as humans do are rather strange. We claim to be civil and yet we slaughter other creatures mercilessly. We declare ourselves the lords of the land plundering and pillaging nature everywhere we go. We have successfully managed to further divide ourselves by imposing our prejudicial views on our own kind. We wage wars in the name of peace and make peace only to keep others under our thumb

We claim that we are better than animals because of our ability to think but we behave thoughtlessly most of the time. There is more “Alien-ity” than humanity in human beings because animals have more compassion than we do.

We are indeed such a strange species and the amusing thing is that we talk about aliens as if they are invaders, intruders and terribly evil beings when we are probably the only race in the cosmos that is guilty of these crimes

Yes, I truly believe that the human species on earth is the worst kind because we not only do wear dresses, get civilized, marry, divorce and prey on all other beings but prey on our own kind and slaughter them. The more our own kind suffers, the more humans seem to enjoy it. We have not only used technology to make our lives easier but also devised methods that would enable a human to suffer most. In the name of advancement there are a bunch of scientists and engineers perfecting bio-weapons to be used on their own kind. When the need arises there will be mass-deaths.

Honestly speaking, we humans have lost our purpose and meaning along the way and there is corruption all over. In the name of religion and peace there is even more corruption and distortion.

We certainly do wear dresses and we like them so much that we become the costumes that we wear with our pretences and our disguises. We certainly are a sadistic race of beings and it is so evident in the things we do from ethnic cleansing to government organized terrorism (Guantanamo bay, Abu Ghraib).

Yes I agree completely. It is not enough that we have massacred natural resources in the name of technology; we take it to another level by using this technology to massacre humans in the process.

Isn't it ironic that religion claims to promote peace and unity but does the exact opposite? People murder, slaughter and judge others in the name of religion. Even without being extreme and physically violent we use religion everyday to destroy lives from the inside.

To quote from one of my favorite books, George Orwell's Animal Farm:

“Man is the only creature that consumes without producing. He does not give milk, he does not lay eggs, he is too weak to pull the plough, and he cannot run fast enough to catch rabbits. Yet he is lord of all the animals. He sets them to work, he gives back to them the bare minimum that will prevent them from starving, and the rest he keeps for himself”.

Pretence! What a word!
Only the human can live with a misunderstanding for this long.

Disguise, so much so, the inhuman has forgotten what his guise is, and even after losing he will still look for a guise, but not remain exposed.

In all of civilization, he is the only creature who can alienate himself from his originality.

One thing I found out is that what he throws away to the creatures is the rich food and the idiot eats the worst in the name of science. Idiot eats Rice and wheat, throw the fibre to the cattle and like an idiot pays for organic food.

Exactly! At least the creatures eat from nature. All humans eat are processed and genetically modified food that is infected and injected with only god knows what. I have always found that to be true as well, completely idiotic paying for organic food because it is so ironic that we're paying for something we could have gotten for free in the first place.

Absolutely! Nature gives us such lovely food, all potable direct. All the fruits and most vegetables are directly consumable but we can't make life so easy for the future. We have to torture them and make them starve so they realize what we have been through. We have to often shown them slides of slavery and past struggle and how our forefathers were tortured in order for them to realize not to take life easy and also make them experience starvation in order to just throw a few packs of noodles in the kitchen and train them how to cook. We are busy in dependence struggle and so we can boast that our children are independent and that we taught them how to make noodles. Even when we ask " can I come home and cook, they reply: "No Mom, I can manage with two-minute noodles"

Tele-parenting occurs where we systematically and scientifically lose LIFE and in the pretext of finding it, leave it to the children.

When it comes to human beings, we have destroyed everything. In the name of peace, first war was declared and then there was enough trouble to last a lifetime. Blowing up all the people's money, on arms and ammunition and even making sure that people are starving. Peace was then declared.

Next, in the name of technology water was completely polluted by draining the chemical and all the waste matter. More expensive equipment were made to purify our own crap so as to make it safe for us to drink.

Currently animals are pumped with hormones so that they reach the maximum size at the earliest stage because we can't wait to slaughter them to eat. Humans have started eating the fetuses of human babies for longevity and vitality. How much further will this go?

Even the fruits and vegetables are all pumped with artificial chemicals so as to give them a double to triple yield so they can be ripened faster and harvested. Are humans looking any better? I don't think so because we are heading for an obese world where now being slim is termed as "looking sickly" yet being plump and fat and bursting at the seams is termed "very healthy." Diet food is even more harmful and everybody falls for it which in turn causes even more health problems.

On the other hand, the medical experts are busy trying out one remedy to another to save humanity from diseases so that we can eat and drink all that we want and when we fall sick-there will be a quick remedy available which will make us go broke.

Humans are really crazy and this is why we are the worst creatures on earth. We self-destruct and we are all aware of it, yet we continue to do what we want.
