About Jacques

Born in South Africa and lived there for 30 years before moving to the UK in 2000. Married to Michaela and he has a daughter called Karis aged 10 and she is her dad's girl. For the past 19 years Jacques has lived and worked as a PGA

Professional in England and since his paths crossed with Chaka Travel in 2013 he has not looked back. In his own words, “The guys at Chaka Travel has made my dream come true. They made it possible for me to take groups of golfers around the world to the most beautiful locations whilst playing golf with them and improving their golf at the same time through professional tuition”. South Africa was his first country to visit with a group and the idea was to make everybody feel safe and relaxed whilst having a great time. Since then we have added more countries with groups joining him to Turkey, Mauritius, Spain, Italy and Bulgaria. Join him on one of his trips and you will have a great time.
