

Now Hiring: Project Engineer – TBK Construction Management

TBK Construction Management is seeking a Project Engineer to join our team and have an immediate impact on a booming business that's growing every day.

About Us: At TBK Construction Management, we deliver high-quality, personalized service that exceeds client expectations. We're reshaping what it means to be a K-12 program and construction manager. We have a new approach that's more cost effective and appealing for school districts and more efficient than the old, outdated model.

Key Responsibilities:

- With direct support from a Project Executive and Project Manager, assist with the management of construction bond programs from initiation to completion, ensuring they are on time, within scope, and within budget.
- Produce daily reports of active construction activities, coordinate between contractors, clients and designers.
- Collaborate with clients, stakeholders, architects, and engineers to define project requirements and deliverables.
- Provide document control and budget deliverables to clients.
- Identify and mitigate potential risks, and proactively address challenges as they arise.
- Prepare regular updates to school boards, staff and internal stakeholders.
- Regularly interface with many different stakeholders.

Qualifications:

- Excellent communication, organization and problem-solving skills.
- Self-starter with initiative.
- Bachelor's degree in Construction Management, Architecture, Engineering, or a related field (preferred).

Why Join TBK Construction Management?

- Be part of a booming company with a wealth of opportunities for accelerated career growth.
- Not just words, but a genuine commitment to ensuring work-life balance for every employee.
- Generous salary and benefits package.
- Join a company that values efficiency, initiative, and common sense over red tape
- A supportive work environment where your contributions have significant impact.
