

The Sobriety Resource

Addiction is Chaotic. Finding a Way Out of it Shouldn't Be.

That's where The Sobriety Resource can help.

We are a private 501(c)3 non-profit and help families struggling with addiction find the resources to meet their unique needs so they can move forward in their recovery.

One way we do this is by removing the financial barriers to finding and securing trustworthy treatment and recovery options.

We offer free consultations to families and financial scholarships to qualifying individuals seeking to enter or remain in a trusted program. We even stay with those who are doing well in their programs to invest further in their long-term healing and recovery.

In addition, we provide customized staff development training and education to community-based service providers on issues related to substance use disorders.

All of our services are free of charge.

That's where YOU can help!
