MODERATOR

CATHY CHUKWULEBE

Harvard MBA Candidate and Program Manager at Resolve Foundation

Cathy is the Programs Director for Resolve Foundation. She graduated with a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering from The University of Notre Dame and is pursuing her MBA at Harvard Business School. As an engineer by training and a problem solver by experience, she has used her skills in a Leadership and Technical Development Program at Caterpillar Inc, a heavy equipment manufacturing company where she worked for about five years. Through Caterpillar, Cathy was able to mentor and guide other young female manufacturing engineers on career decisions, thus developing a passion for helping young adults gain access to resources for personal and professional self-improvement.
