President's Message

Got some fertilizing done this morning. It seems this chore comes around quite regularly. Repotting can also be regular but not as regular and not so often. It all just goes to my appreciation of my orchids when they reward me with some great blooms.

We are coming up on the time of year when we make donations to our various orchid organizations. Maybe we need to consider being more generous as our bank account just seems to keep growing.

A good alternative would be to find some good way to reward ourselves. We have discussed the purchase of raffle plants but have come to realize they cost more than the return we get on ticket sales. This could be remedied by having growers with divisions or back bulbs contributing them. This just results in more income.

September is our usual meeting at which we have auction plants. Again, the expense is usually more than the income.

Plant sales and raffles do not reward all members but only those who get the bargain plants. There are members that have no need for more orchids so don't participate. I have no need for more orchids but that doesn't stop me from craving a pretty orchid that I don't have. And there are ways to make room for at least one more orchid.

One way to fairly reward all members would be to do away with membership dues. Those desiring more orchids could invest those funds towards their own orchid purchases.

Just food for thought. Think on it and we can discuss these or other alternatives. I just don't see a good reason to keep growing our bank account without in turn rewarding those responsible for it being there.

See you at our next meeting,
