President's Message

As your outgoing President, I am now producing my last newsletter. This is the hardest part of my job. Hardest because I have to think and figure out what to write to you about.

I am pleased with where our society is now. Our membership and attendance at meetings were good before Covid came along. After, our attendance was down. Now some of our former attendees have returned and we have gained some new members. Things are looking good. Our obvious interest in sale and raffle plants shows members are looking for an improvement in their numbers and/or quality of flowers they can produce. Our show and tell tables are well supplied with beautiful flowers to excite members to try to match or exceed their fellow members' exhibits.

I don't see that much will change just because we have a new President. But then I just might get surprised.

The President is the voice of our orchid club. It is up to us, the membership, to give our thoughts and opinions and assistance to help our president to operate and succeed in continuing our society for the betterment of our orchid growing efforts.

Good Luck Alison!
