FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Sep 30, 2024

Quakertown, Pennsylvania – The Post Acute Wound & Skin Integrity Council (PAWSIC), a 501(c)(6) non-profit organization committed to advancing a patient-centered, team-based approach in post-acute care, is proud to announce that it has officially become a member of the Alliance of Wound Care Stakeholders. This partnership allows PAWSIC to collaborate with key stakeholders in wound care and provide a stronger voice on issues specific to wound and skin care in the post-acute care space.

Through this membership, PAWSIC will have the opportunity to engage with other professionals and organizations who share our vision and mission, expanding our ability to support and advocate for the integration of evidence-based skin and wound prevention and management practices. The Alliance serves as a platform for collaboration on initiatives that improve the quality of care for patients with wounds, while addressing regulatory and policy issues affecting clinicians and patients alike.

“This partnership with the Alliance of Wound Care Stakeholders enables PAWSIC to engage in meaningful dialogue and collaboration with other key players in the wound care space,” said Jeanine Maguire, PhD, MPT, CWS, President of PAWSIC. “It strengthens our ability to advocate for the needs of wound care professionals in the post-acute setting and ensure that our collective voice is heard on policies that impact the care of patients with wounds.”

As a member of the Alliance, PAWSIC will work alongside other leaders in wound care to advocate for policies that support access to quality wound care products and services. This membership aligns PAWSIC with a network of organizations dedicated to advancing wound care practices, offering new opportunities for collaboration, networking, and educational initiatives.
