

Crowells Consulting

The heat is on. Are you feeling it? Your customers are.

Customers, shareholders, and other constituents are demanding companies disclose their emissions and climate risks.

It's time to create an emissions reduction strategy and action plan that makes sense and supports the organizational mission.

Businesses are looking for a fast and practical approach satisfying these disclosure requirements and are willing to invest in creating a climate action plan that works for the business and its stakeholders.

Specifically, we work with you to deliver:

Crowells Consulting can help you respond to these requests. Our team works with small, medium, and large organizations to develop and publish their emissions profile, define emissions reduction targets, and projects reducing environmental impacts. Plus, we improve supply chain efficiencies and reduce costs while enhancing the sustainability of the business.

1. Carbon footprint (Greenhouse gas inventory)
2. Climate action plan
3. Materiality and climate risk assessments
4. Practical and attainable emissions reduction targets
5. Sustainability scorecard
6. Customized climate and sustainability training

Extensive industry knowledge:

Industries: Manufacturing, Technology, Retail, State & Local Government, Technology, Apparel, Non-profit, Food & Beverage, and Academic

Functions: Facilities, Procurement, Supply Chain, Production, Finance and Accounting, Audit, Legal, Public Works, EH&S, R&D, and Information Services

We help clients quantify and reduce emissions, achieve sustainability goals, and reduce cost creating a more sustainable, equitable, and just future.

We understand every business is unique and has its own set of challenges. Our approach is to work closely with all functions, develop strong relationships, and create customized solutions meeting business needs.

Sustainability embedded in your strategy and operations can reduce emissions, energy costs, and improve operational efficiencies. Our sustainability consultancy extends to waste reduction, supply chain optimization, and internal operations because it has to be.

Client Results:

Trusted highlights. Delivered.

Client quotes:

Stay connected. Stay current.

"Doing an emissions inventory is not so straightforward. My team didn't have the skillset or the time to do what was needed... I engaged Crowells Consulting and was thrilled to have them drive the project and deliverables."

"Our GHG inventory was audited by a third-party verifier last year [2023] and identified very few improvements to our process. Crowells Consulting ensured the data was accurate and the audit trail was clear and complete."

"Crowell Consulting produced our GHG inventory for the last 3 years. We are very satisfied with the results and recommendations. We will engage them next year."
