

ACTIVE SHOOTER (AND WHAT REALLY HAPPENED IN LAS VEGAS)

John Iannarelli, FBI Special Agent (Ret.)

OVERVIEW

In his informative and entertaining keynote presentation, Active Shooter (and What Really Happened in Las Vegas), John Iannarelli engages his audiences with scenarios that raise their situational awareness.

The audience will hear behind the scenes stories of what really happened during the Las Vegas shooting, to include how it was planned, how the law enforcement responded and how important clues were missed that could have prevented this tragedy. How often these days do we turn on the news and hear of another mass shooting?

John Iannarelli, who was in Las Vegas when the actual shooting occurred, was immediately engaged as an on-air Law Enforcement Analyst for the Fox News Channel, CNN NBC, and other national news program, which gave him inside access to the crime scene. This access, in addition to being present alongside his former FBI colleagues working the crime scene, gave him inside knowledge on which no one else can speak about at this time. Although this topic is extremely serious, John brings a light heartedness to appropriately break the tension, doing so with his knowledge of presentation style.

OUTCOMES

Audiences, after hearing John's presentation will:

- > be able to protect themselves and their family should they ever find themselves in an active shooter situation,
- > know what to look for to raise suspicions that such an attack is being planned,
- > be able to avoid key mistakes during such an event that often cause victims to be harmed,
- > understand three simple concepts that give them the ability to react and stay safe instead of being a victim, and
- > develop situational awareness decision making skills that enable them to make choices in advance that will dictate their outcome before anything even happens.

This presentation references Iannarelli's book How to Spot A Terrorist; Before It Is Too Late.

ABOUT JOHN IANNARELLI

John Iannarelli retired from the FBI after more than 20 years of service, during which time he was a member of the FBI SWAT Team and participated in the investigations of the Oklahoma City bombing, the 9/11 attack, the shooting of Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords and the Sony hack. Among his many FBI assignments, John previously served in Washington, D.C. as the FBI National Spokesperson. During his FBI tenure, John was the recipient of the FBI Director's Distinguished Service Award, for which he was selected from the ranks of the Bureau's 35,000 employees.

A former San Diego Police Officer and a graduate of the University of San Diego School of Law and international studies at Oxford, England, John is also an attorney admitted to the practice of law in California, Maryland and the District of Columbia. In addition, John is the recipient of an Honorary Doctor of Computer Science in recognition of his contributions to the field of cyber investigations.

An energetic and entertaining speaker, John is the author of four books, including How to Spot A Terrorist Before It's Too Late, a guide to help people recognize and prevent terrorism before it can occur. His soon to be released fifth book, Disorderly Conduct, examines the lighter side of law enforcement and the humorous moments during John's FBI career.

John is a frequently on-air contributor for the Fox News Channel and other national media, to include having provided live on-scene coverage from Las Vegas of the Mandalay Bay shooting as it occurred. John is now a highly sought-after keynote speaker, known for sharing his intriguing insights combined with his sense of humor. He has presented to numerous Fortune 500 companies, domestic and international audiences, the United Nations, and the Vatican, where he has personally met on several occasions with Pope Francis.
