Photo ID

Voters will be asked to show photo ID when voting in North Carolina.

- For most voters, they will simply show their driver's license. There are many other acceptable photo IDs.
- If a voter does not have an acceptable photo ID, they can get one for free from the N.C. Division of Motor Vehicles (NCDMV) or their county board of elections.
- All voters will be allowed to vote with or without a photo ID. If a voter cannot show photo ID when voting in person, they can still vote by filling out an ID Exception Form. For absentee-by-mail voters, if they are unable to include a copy of their photo ID in their ballot return envelope, they can also fill out an ID Exception Form with their ballot.

Accessible Voting

Curbside Voting

Every voting site in North Carolina offers curbside voting for voters who are unable to enter the voting place without physical assistance due to age or disability. Signs should be in place to direct voters to the curbside voting location. Curbside voters must sign an affidavit affirming that they are unable to enter the voting place to cast their ballot.

- A voter whose disability prevents him or her from entering the voting booth or marking a ballot without assistance, or a voter who is illiterate, may get help from any person*
- A poll worker can assist any voter*

To receive assistance, the voter must:

- Request assistance
- Designate from whom he/she would like assistance

*The voter's employer or agent of that employer or an officer or agent of the voter's union is not permitted to provide assistance.
