The President's Message

Regine Saurel Bernadel

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Thank you for being here tonight. Without offense to your belief, we want to thank the Lord for making this gala once more possible and for bringing you safely here. We thank you for your support, we thank you for putting your trust in our work.

It has been a horrible, indescribable situation in Haiti with too many challenges to the point of losing hope. But we, at the CCH-FSCAA remain convinced there will be light at the end of the tunnel and we are keeping our torch lit.

We have launched a campaign called EPK (Edikasyon Pap Kanpe) (Education will prevail) preparing for the better days ahead. But YOU, our supporters, are the motor making the change possible and tonight we ask you, we urge you, we beg you more than ever before to support, to be generous, to be hopeful.

Education will make a difference for the leaders of the future in our beloved country. Haiti will live! Ayiti pap mouri!

Thank you,
Regine Saurel Bernadel
President

Mesdames et Messieurs,

Merci d'être ici ce soir. Sans offenser votre croyance, nous tenons à remercier le Seigneur d'avoir rendu ce gala une fois de plus possible et de vous avoir amené ici en toute sécurité. Nous vous remercions pour votre soutien, nous vous remercions de la confiance que vous accordez à notre travail.

La situation en Haïti est horrible et indescriptible, avec trop de défis au point de perdre espoir. Mais nous, à la Cch-fscaa, restons convaincus qu'il y aura de la lumière au bout du tunnel et nous gardons le flambeau allumé.

Nous avons lancé une campagne appelée EPK (Edikasyon Pap Kanpe) (L'éducation doit continuer) pour préparer les jours meilleurs à venir. Mais VOUS, nos supporters, êtes le moteur qui rend le changement possible et ce soir nous vous demandons, nous vous exhortons, nous vous supplions plus que jamais de soutenir, d'être généreux, d'avoir de l'espoir.

L'éducation fera une différence pour les dirigeants de demain dans notre pays bien-aimé. Haïti vivra ! Ayiti pap mouri !

Merci
Regine Saurel Bernadel
Présidente

EPK: EDIKASYON PAP KANPE

The College Canado-Haitien et Freres du Sacre-Coeur Alumni Association is proud to launch its new fundraising campaign.

This new fundraising campaign invites everyone to join the bandwagon and donate a minimum of $10 a month or a lump sum to the cause. The word EPK has been chosen to catch the public attention to the urgency of giving generously to counteract the challenges that parents in Haiti are facing more than ever before to educate their children. This program is to continue helping us achieve certain objectives, mainly to educate the children in Haiti. Our original motto is "INSPIRE, EDUCATE, SHARE & FACILITATE". These are the 4 supporting pillars in EPK. In turn, their meaning IS lost without the actions involved with "EPK!"

Looking ahead, our goal is to leave no child behind. Every child is entitled to receive an education no matter where he/she comes from. The average monthly tuition is about $50 a month.

We encourage everyone to sponsor a child or to provide a partial scholarship. Each of you should donate what you have decided in your heart to give.

We thank you in advance for your continued support of these children in need of a better education which will provide a better life.

Donations can be sent via zelle at cchboard22@gmail.com

Respectfully yours,
Regine Saurel Bernadel
President – New York Chapter

L'Association des anciens du Collège Canado-Haïtien et Frères du Sacré-Cœur est fière de lancer sa nouvelle campagne de financement.

Cette nouvelle campagne de financement invite tout le monde à prendre le train en marche et à donner un minimum de 10 $ par mois ou une somme forfaitaire à la cause. Le mot EPK a été choisi pour attirer l'attention du public sur l'urgence de donner généreusement pour contrer les défis auxquels les parents haïtiens sont plus que jamais confrontés pour éduquer leurs enfants. Ce programme doit continuer à nous aider à atteindre certains objectifs, principalement l'éducation des enfants en Haïti. Notre devise originale est « INSPIRER, ÉDUQUER, PARTAGER ET FACILITER ». Ce sont les 4 piliers de soutien de l'EPK. À leur tour, leur sens EST perdu sans les actions impliquées dans « EPK ! »

Pour l'avenir, notre objectif est de ne laisser aucun enfant de côté. Chaque enfant a le droit de recevoir une éducation, quelle que soit son origine. Les frais de scolarité mensuels moyens sont d'environ 50 $ par mois.

Nous encourageons chacun à parrainer un enfant ou à lui offrir une bourse partielle. Chacun de vous devrait donner ce qu'il a décidé de donner dans son cœur.

Nous vous remercions d'avance pour votre soutien continu à ces enfants qui ont besoin d'une meilleure éducation qui leur offrira une vie meilleure.

Les dons peuvent être envoyés via zelle à cchboard22@gmail.com

Mettez vos chèques à l'ordre de : CCH-FSCAA et postés au 27 Marietta Drive, Westbury, NY 11590.

The 79/80 Promotion was raising money for a “Teachers Bathroom-Infirmery upgrade” at Canado. We donated $585.00 toward the project on December 9, 2023.

For the second year in a row, Jean-Moise Jeanty, Class of 1982, sent us $6,000.00 to fund the Scholarship of Excellence, in honor of his deceased young son, Kariwoyingi. The money is split into 12 half-scholarships; CCH administration agreed to put up the other half, to make it 12 full scholarships. We delivered the money to the school in January 2024.

Tabou Combo: Illuminating the Heights of Haitian Musical Brilliance

In the rich tapestry of Haitian history, there are numerous moments that fill us, Haitians worldwide, with immense pride. Among these cherished memories stands the birth of Tabou Combo, the iconic musical ensemble hailing from Pétion-Ville, in 1968. From humble beginnings as a group of talented teenagers, Tabou Combo has evolved into a powerhouse, captivating audiences globally with its distinctive sound, earning the esteemed title of "the reference" in Haitian music, particularly the Konpa genre.

Venturing beyond Haiti, Tabou Combo found a second home in New York City, where their trajectory toward success accelerated. The addition of singer/guitarist Dadou Pasquet infused the band with fresh energy and a distinctive guitar-driven style. Clubs like "Canne à Sucre" became havens for young Haitians seeking solace after a week of toil and study. Remarkably, amidst their musical pursuits, many band members also dedicated themselves to furthering their education, exemplifying a commitment to both artistic and academic growth.

The accolades continued to pour in as Tabou Combo showcased their talent on the international stage. At a music festival in Paris in 1973, they competed alongside renowned acts like Bob Marley and the Wailers, earning recognition with their hit "New-York City," which dominated European charts for months. Years later, the same song, rebranded as "Fufu" by Carlos Santana, stole the spotlight during the halftime show of the 40th Super Bowl in Detroit, Michigan.

In resilience and dedication to community, Tabou Combo mirrors organizations like the CCH-FSCAA, demonstrating unwavering support for Haitian education initiatives at home and abroad. Led by the indomitable Roger M. Eugene, also known as Shoubou, both entities stand as pillars of strength for Haitian students and culture.

To the original members, past contributors, and newcomers of Tabou Combo, we extend our heartfelt gratitude for the profound impact they have made on the Haitian spirit. May they continue to soar on the wings of pride, serving and inspiring the Haitian community, guided by the wind of divine favor.

Berthelot Jeremie: A Multi-talented Artist

Berthelot Jeremie, a multi-talented artist hailing from Dufayi, a town nestled in Haiti's central department, has built an impressive career that bridges music and acting. Although he now resides in Boston, he carries his Haitian roots into everything he creates, captivating audiences with his smooth voice and soulful performances. At the age of 14, he discovered his artistic passion, embarking on a journey that would see him embracing multiple languages and genres. Singing in Creole, French, Spanish, and English, Jeremie has earned the nickname "the Haitian Barry White" among American fans, a testament to his deep voice and charismatic presence.

His musical debut came in 2012 with the country-style single "I'm Still Missing You," marking the start of a diverse discography. Jeremie is not only a gifted singer but also a film actor, with roles in the 2008 thriller "A Date With Death" and the 2017 romance "Two Islands Between Our Love." His versatility as an entertainer has allowed him to reach various audiences, whether through his music or on the big screen.

Jeremie's collaborations with other artists showcase his adaptability and willingness to explore new musical territory. In 2021, he teamed up with Haitian rapper BIC on the song "Mesye Nou Lach," demonstrating his ability to seamlessly blend styles. Two years later, in 2023, he released a troubadour version of "Can't Help Falling in Love," breathing new life into a classic American hit. His latest single, "A Romantic Evening," continues to showcase his romantic side, earning him praise from fans and critics alike.

Looking ahead, Jeremie has ambitious plans for his music career. In 2024, he aims to release two new singles, complete with accompanying music videos, which will keep his fans eagerly anticipating his next move. And by 2025, he plans to unveil a full album, solidifying his status as one of Haiti's most dynamic and enduring artists. As he continues to evolve, Berthelot Jeremie remains committed to sharing his rich cultural heritage with the world, all while creating music and performances that resonate with audiences everywhere.

Giving Back, a form of Gratitude

By Anthony Cherubin

In a world often driven by individual pursuits and ambitions, the concept of giving back stands as a beacon of compassion, empathy, and communal responsibility. It embodies the essence of kindness and generosity, reminding us of the interconnectedness of humanity and the profound impact that acts of selflessness can have on both individuals and communities alike. Giving back transcends mere charity; it is a philosophy that underscores the importance of sharing our resources, time, and talents to uplift those in need and contribute to the greater good. Whether through volunteerism, philanthropy, or simply lending a helping hand, the act of giving back serves as a catalyst for positive change, fostering a culture of empathy and solidarity that enriches the fabric of society.

Yes, giving back can indeed be considered a form of gratitude. When individuals engage in acts of giving back, they often express appreciation for the blessings, opportunities, or support they have received in their own lives.

Here's how giving back embodies gratitude:

Acknowledgment of Privilege: Many individuals recognize that they have been fortunate to have access to resources, education, opportunities, or support systems that others may lack. Giving back is a way of acknowledging this privilege and expressing gratitude for the advantages one has enjoyed.

Paying It Forward: For those who have received help or support from others in the past, giving back can be a way of paying it forward. It's a recognition of the kindness and generosity shown to them, and a desire to extend similar support to others who may benefit from it.

Fostering Connection and Community: Giving back often involves building connections with others and strengthening communities. By supporting those in need, individuals express gratitude for the sense of belonging and mutual support they experience within their communities.

Creating Positive Impact: Gratitude can be expressed through actions that create positive change and uplift others. By giving back, individuals demonstrate gratitude for the opportunities they've had to make a difference in the lives of others and contribute to the greater good.

This expression of gratitude takes the form of giving back to others who may be in need or less fortunate.

Cultivating Empathy: Gratitude is closely linked to empathy – the ability to understand and share the feelings of others. When individuals give back, they demonstrate empathy for those who may be facing challenges or hardships, expressing gratitude for their own capacity to empathize and make a difference.

In essence, giving back is a way of showing gratitude for the blessings and privileges one has received by extending kindness, support, and resources to others. It reflects an appreciation for the interconnectedness of humanity and the belief that everyone deserves compassion, assistance, and opportunities for a better life.

The 50th Anniversary of Canado-Technique

By Lucien Durand - Director of Continuing Education and IT Coordinator at CCH

1. Context

The economy had just revived in the country. New jobs require mastery of much more technical tasks, while some companies revel in companionship. There was very little professional and technical training. The National Institute of Professional Training (INFP) and the Pilot Center for Professional Training started in the same year (1973) as Canado-Technique.

Initially, it was necessary to overcome a prejudice: some thought that “Only individuals with low intellectual capacity chose the technique”. Despite all the challenges, the Professional Training Center of Haiti (CFPH-Canado-Technique) has stood the test of time and, for fifty years, put thousands of Technicians on the job market in different fields. They dominate the economy at different levels. They effectively gain the trust of their employer to the point of becoming their partner. We take the example of Maxime Percy and Behrmann Motors; likewise, Roger Lescot and Malval Entreprises. Others have organized their own company: Mécanique de Précision by Claude Lebreton, Alaska by Roger Parisot, Chrad by Jean Lucien Ligondé.

2. Operating Strategy

The training profile is determined by market needs and new technologies. As a concrete example: the electricity course from the old program has now become Electromechanics. The qualified electromechanics installs at his client: a new building electricity system, with inverters, regulator, generator, and solar panels. From his office, the customer can start his generator using his phone.

The launch of the 50th Anniversary of Canado Technical School with Canadian Ambassador - André François Giroux and the Provincial Superior of the Brothers of the Sacré-Coeur in Haiti - Brother Augustin Nelson.

3. 50th Anniversary of Canado-Technique Activities

The Brothers of the Sacred Heart launched on November 29, 2023 with the sponsorship of the Ambassador of Canada, Mr. André François Giroux, the Activities of the 50th Anniversary of Canado-Technique which will take place throughout the year. When time permits, the Center will hold various events such as:

- 50th anniversary lottery to win a car and many other prizes.
- Alumni Day, with a special souvenir certificate.

All Alumni and their friends are invited to participate. The Brothers of the Sacred Heart would like to thank:

- a) Members of the CCH-FSCAA

Whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows generously will also reap generously. Each of you should give what you have decided in your heart to give, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver.
