PRIVATE HOME DETENTION

We also monitor
out of County defendants

- 1. First Contact
Contact us for options and how you may get your client court approved for private electronic monitoring / home detention.
- 2. Turned down by the Jail, Probation, or the Sheriff's Department
If your client was court ordered to serve a portion or all of their sentence on house arrest but was turned down by the court appointed monitoring company, we may be able to help.
- 3. Acceptance Letter
If your client was turned down, we will gladly provide you with an acceptance letter into our private home detention program. Present this letter to the court for approval.

Alternative sentencing options with a private company such as ours must be court approved.

We are here to help brainstorm sentencing options for house arrest and alternative sentencing.
