The InTouch solution allows an officer to place an offender on curfew. Officers can enter a curfew schedule (for example 8am – 8pm) and designate a specific number of random check-ins to occur (based upon risk level), plus draw geographic zone parameters of where they want the client to remain inside of (for example, the home). A GPS location is included with every check-in; which enables the officer to assess whether the supervised person is at home during their required hours. These features ensure monitoring compliance of curfews on an offender 24/7 without using complex or expensive hardware.
