

CyberSec's New Monthly Competition

Next month CyberSec Weekly will be introducing a new competition. The monthly competition will involve a quiz every week with the top scorer winning a prize.

There Will be a Choice of Two Prizes up for Grabs

1. Receive an amazon gift card worth £10
2. Feature a special mention of yourself or your business on CyberSec Weekly

More details will be coming in the following weeks!

The UK's New Nuclear Cyber Security Stance

The Chartered Institute of Information Security have launched a new initiative. The aim is to bring security talent to the UK's nuclear industry. They will aim to protect against the most common vulnerabilities.

One issue CIISec has identified is due to the large number of professionals working in a variety of areas, it may be difficult to undertake best practices due to this.

To read the full story...

Click Here

---

Why shouldn't you use 'beef stew' as your password

It's not Stronganoff!

---

The Volunteers Beating Ransomware Attacks

Ransomware attacks have increased in frequency in recent years. Many of the victims include schools and small business, those of which cannot afford the more expensive security measures needed to protect themselves. Attackers take advantage of their situation for financial gain.

Some volunteers have taken it upon themselves to fight back.

To read the full story...

Click Here

---

List of the top LinkedIn courses

Click Here

CyberSec Weekly

This email was sent to {{contact.EMAIL}}
You've received it because you've subscribed to our newsletter.

Unsubscribe

Sent by sendinblue