Apple Releases Vital Security Update

Hackers were able to exploit some apple models which lead to a important update recently. The attack relied on exploiting WebKit which is used as the engine for Safari.

Further MacOS Update

Over the week there was also an update for MacOS Monterey. This was to prevent a security flaw which allowed the execution of arbitrary and potential for a hacker to take full control of the system.

To read the full story...

Click Here

Music Video Causes Crashes on Window's PCs

Janet Jackson's "Rhythm Nation" which was released in 1989 has recently been causing crashes when played on Window's PCs, and in some cases when it hasn't even been played. It was found the reason was due to it causing resonating frequencies in the hard drives.

To read the full story...

Click Here

How do programmers like their brownies?

GUI

Interested in sponsoring CyberSec Weekly?

This Could be Your Ad!

CyberSec Weekly connect Cyber Security businesses and professionals.

To find out how to advertise with CyberSec Weekly...

CISA adds 7 New Vulnerabilities to List

The US Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency has added 7 new vulnerabilities from large tech companies such as Google, Microsoft and Apple.

To read more and see the full list of vulnerabilities...

[Click Here]

Course of the Week

Cybersecurity Full Course for Beginner - My CS (YouTube)

[Click Here]