

Press Release – Operational Solutions Ltd	Release Date:
Operational Solutions Ltd – Chief Technology Officer (CTO) Announcement	29/10/2020

The Board of Operational Solutions Limited (OSL) are delighted to announce the appointment of Mark Lupton as Chief Technology Officer (CTO). Mark joins OSL after a career spanning more than 30 years within the Security, Aviation and Defence industries, where he has accrued a wealth of International experience across the entire lifecycle of engineering and programme management. Mark has spent the last 15 years undertaking Executive roles, for a variety of organisations ranging from major global defence contractors, to founding and successfully running an SME providing UAS and Counter UAS consultancy and assessments for several customers, including UK Government.

Chief Executive Office, Mark Legh-Smith, welcomed Mark to OSL:

“We are delighted that Mark has chosen to join OSL at this exciting time, as he will bring significant experience and expertise to the team as we drive the company forwards. Mark’s knowledge of the civil security and international Defence markets, coupled with his experience in Research & Development, and Test & Evaluation further underpins OSL’s position as a leading provider of C-UAS capability.”

Operational Solutions Limited – A leading innovator and provider of Security, Simulation, and Consultancy to commercial airport, critical national infrastructure and Defence markets. OSL provides the Counter UAS capability for a number of major international airports, both in the UK and abroad. Additionally, OSL works closely with UK MoD and partners to deliver a range of capabilities including the Combined Arms Tactical Trainer, Chinook Simulation support, UK Special forces training and GBAD.
