Results and digital revenue growth beat; we reaffirm our Buy rating and PT. The focus of the story remains on integration and growth of the digital media businesses acquired over the past year, which drove the digital media segment to beat handily on both revenue and cash flow in the quarter, leading to a higher 2021 digital segment forecast as well. Management noted that it was considering other potential digital media transactions, we believe that geographic expansion of both the Cisneros and MediaDonuts businesses is a possibility, and the estimated digital contribution to our valuation has ticked up.

Raising our 2021/22 estimates a bit across the board. 3Q core advertising (ex-political) is pacing up 13% for TV, 40% for radio, and 89% for digital, vs. our prior comparable estimates of 36%/18%/68%. Cisneros continues to expand credit support to its customer base, as it benefits from strong Facebook growth in Latin America, as we noted in our preview. MediaDonuts' largest ad platform partnerships are with Twitter and TikTok, respectively. Within broadcast media, TV revenue growth is being hampered by the impact of the industry-wide auto shortage, leading auto advertising—TV's largest category—to be pacing down 4% for 3Q. Conversely, radio/audio is outperforming, driven in particular by strong network advertising growth. Our 2021 revenue/EBITDA/EPS estimates go to $725m/$79.2m/$0.40 from $691m/$78.1m/$0.39. See Figure 3. Our 2021 digital segment estimates (pro forma for MediaDonuts, which closed on July 1) for revenue/operating cash flow go to $524m/$39.0m from $491m/$33.9m, as our 2021 pro forma growth estimates for digital revenue/OCF go to 71%/129% from 61%/99%.

2Q recap: EBITDA beat, driven by digital and radio. 2Q results were revenue/EBITDA/EPS of $178m/$17.8m/$0.09, above our estimates of $162m/$16.5m/$0.07 and consensus of $162m/$16.0m/$0.08. See Figure 2. Core advertising growth was 57% for TV (local up 79%, national up 36%), 129% for radio (local up 92%, national up 141%), and 144% for digital, vs. prior pacing of 55% for TV, 84% for radio and 115% for digital. Within the digital media segment, revenue growth was 173% at Cisneros vs. our 139% estimate and 35% at the legacy digital business vs. our 27% estimate. Operating expenses were held in check, at $41.4m vs. our $41.9m estimate.

Our 12-month price target for EVC is $9; risks on p. 3. Our PT is supported by a discounted cash flow valuation. On explicit financial forecasts through 2026, we assume weighted average cost of capital (WACC) and stable FCF growth rates, respectively, of roughly 6% and -1% for broadcast business and 8% and 1% for digital media business. Our view could change based on 1) outlook for emerging markets digital media, 2) core growth or profitability of U.S. broadcast media, and 3) capital allocation.

Investment Thesis: Buy With $9 12-Month Price Target

Positives supporting our Buy rating include: 1) EVC's share price is not fully capturing the potential of digital media acquisitions over the past year because the higher growth with a different business model is more difficult for investors to assess; 2) EVC's lower post-pandemic expense base looks sustainable; 3) operating risk at the core U.S. media business should be ebbing based on the cyclical rebound in the U.S. Hispanic economy and secular growth of political advertising; 4) stability of net retransmission fee revenue (61% of 2020 EBITDA) and pro forma net debt leverage under 2x enhance management's longer-term options; and 5) our DCF valuation supports substantial stock price upside over the next 12 months.

Risks to our investment thesis include: 1) secular challenges and potentially increasing competition from Univision for EVC's broadcast media business, 2) potential volatility of EVC's digital media business, given its increasing focus on emerging markets and its dependence on a small number of relationships with digital ad platforms, 3) potential barriers to sale of all or a portion of the company; and 4) risk of regression to mean in share price performance given shares' substantial appreciation relative to the overall market and sector peers over the past year.
