

THE HOPE COLLECTION

HOPE FOR THE SEASON

Romans 15:13

“May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in Him...”

HOPE ♥ GRATITUDE ♥ JOY

THE
HOPE
COLLECTION

♥
by New Beautee

FAITH • WELLNESS • INTENTIONAL LIVING

✨ THE HOPE COLLECTION

HOPE FOR THE SEASON

Romans 15:13

“May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in Him...”

Hope for the Season

The holiday season can hold a little bit of everything.

- Joy and celebration.
- Busyness and expectations.
- Gratitude and giving.
- And sometimes grief, weariness, or things we wish were different.

That is why the words of Romans 15:13 are such a beautiful reminder for this season:

God is the source of our hope.

Our peace does not have to depend on everything going according to plan. Our joy does not have to disappear when life feels heavy. And our hope is not something we have to manufacture for ourselves.

God fills us as we trust Him.

He meets us in the celebrations and the quiet moments. He is present in what feels full and in what still feels unfinished. And when our own strength feels small, His hope is still enough.

Throughout this holiday season, let's slow down and remember three things:

There is hope when we need renewal.

There is gratitude when we remember the Giver.

And there is joy because the greatest Gift has already been given.

Whatever this season holds for you, you do not have to enter it empty.

The God of hope is with you—and He is able to fill you until hope overflows.

Three Truths for the Season

1. Hope for Today — October

Romans 15:13 — “May the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace as you trust in Him.”

Some seasons leave us feeling tired, dry, or unsure of what comes next. But hope does not begin with having all the answers. It begins with trusting the One who does.

Romans 15:13 reminds us that God is not simply someone who gives hope—He is the God of hope. As we trust Him, He fills us with joy and peace, even before circumstances change.

You don’t have to force yourself to feel hopeful. Bring God the tired places, the unanswered questions, and the things you’re still waiting on. Let Him refill what life has drained.

Reflection:

Where do you need God to renew your hope right now?

2. Gratitude Changes Our Focus — November

Romans 11:36 — “For from Him and through Him and for Him are all things.”

Gratitude has a way of slowing us down long enough to notice God.

In a season filled with plans, gatherings, responsibilities, and giving, Romans 11:36 reminds us where everything begins: with Him.

Every good gift, every answered prayer, every bit of strength that carried us through, and every grace we may have overlooked comes from God.

Gratitude doesn’t mean pretending everything is perfect. It simply helps us recognize that God has been present and faithful in the middle of it all.

Reflection:

What is one way you can intentionally notice and thank God for His faithfulness this season?

✨ 3. The Greatest Gift Has Already Been Given — December

Romans 6:23b — “The gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.”

Christmas is filled with gifts, but Romans reminds us of the gift that matters most. God gave us Jesus.

Through Him, we receive grace we could never earn, forgiveness we could never purchase, and eternal life we could never create for ourselves.

That changes the way we give. We don’t have to spend the season trying to prove our love, create the perfect Christmas, or make everything feel magical. We can give from a heart that already knows it has received more than enough.

The greatest gift has already been given—and His name is Jesus.

Reflection:

How can remembering the gift of Jesus shape the way you celebrate and give this Christmas?

A Prayer for This Season

Father,

Thank You for being my source of hope, peace, and joy in every season.

When I feel tired, distracted, overwhelmed, or uncertain, help me turn my attention back to You. Fill the places in me that feel empty and teach me to trust You with what I cannot control.

Help me notice Your goodness and remember Your faithfulness. Let gratitude shape my heart—not only when life feels easy, but in every circumstance.

As Christmas approaches, keep Jesus at the center of my celebration. Remind me that Your grace is the greatest gift I could ever receive.

Help me love generously, give freely, rest without guilt, and carry Your hope and peace into the lives of others.

Thank You for Your presence, Your provision, and the gift of Jesus.

In Jesus’ name,

Amen.

This Season's Challenge

Throughout this holiday season:

- Pause — Take a few quiet minutes with God before the busyness of the day begins.
- Notice — Thank God for one evidence of His goodness or faithfulness each day.
- Give — Look for one simple way to share encouragement, kindness, or generosity with someone else.
- Remember — When stress or expectations begin to take over, return to this truth: the greatest gift has already been given.

You don't have to create a perfect season.

Stay close to God and let Him fill it with what matters most.

Remember

You don't have to manufacture hope.
You don't have to rush past gratitude.
You don't have to make Christmas perfect.

God is your source of hope.

His faithfulness is worth remembering.

Jesus is the greatest gift.

There is peace, grace, and joy for you in this season.

✨ The HOPE Collection

Devotionals created to encourage your faith, renew your heart, and remind you that you are deeply loved by God.

Continue your journey with us.

Visit our HOPE page anytime for more encouragement, prayer, worship, and devotionals.

www.newbeautee.com/hope

A new HOPE Collection devotional is coming in the New Year.