

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Please read and fully understand the below statement before continuing with your purchase.

Please note: Some yoga classes maybe recorded for training purposes and personal development ONLY and you will be notified of this prior to the class.

Yoga is for everyone.

However, when online or in classroom based yoga it is up to the individual to assess whether they are ready for the class that they have chosen.

Obviously, if you suffer from specific injuries or disease it is best to consult with your physician first. Similarly if you are pregnant, follow the recommended practice only.

If you think you may be pregnant, let the teacher know ahead of the class starting and if you are menstruating remember to avoid inversions, closed twists and pushing yourself at all.

If you are new to yoga, please watch the practices demonstrated first, before doing them physically.

When joining any class live, it is your responsibility to let the teacher know of any health conditions or injuries you may have. Please always listen to your body and do not force any movement. Let the teacher know by email or text, if you prefer to not speak during the live class. Make sure you complete and send back the Medical Questionnaire form you have been asked to complete prior to the class. Please seek proper medical advice and consult your physician before beginning any new exercise program.

The practice of yoga asanas requires you – the practitioner – to gauge the safety of your practice within your personal physical limitations. It is better to build up slowly than to force and strain.

Please do not share sensitive or personal information within the group chat that you are not willing to share publicly. Any information shared within the public group chat will be treated as public information, although we will not share your information to anyone for any purpose other than ensuring your safe practice of yoga. If you need pass information to your instructor and you prefer to keep this private, message them privately, and your information will be kept secure and private.
