

PEP Hybrid Information

A PEP Hybrid Learning Option for Florida Families—designed to combine the structure of campus instruction with the flexibility of parent-directed education through Florida’s Personalized Education Program.

Use scholarship funds to build a customized K–12 learning plan

Scholarship-supported

PEP funding can help cover approved educational expenses throughout the year.

Campus + home learning

Families receive in-person support while continuing parent-directed learning at home.

Personalized pathway

Each student follows a learning plan tailored to family goals and program requirements.

Program Highlights

- Two or more full days on campus with teachers, classmates, and school resources
- Guided at-home instruction on remaining days using the Student Learning Plan
- A balanced model for families who want both structure and flexibility

Important: PEP Hybrid is not full-time enrollment. Students remain registered as PEP (home education) students with Step Up For Students—not as full-time private school students.

Enrollment Pathway

Use the steps below to begin the PEP Hybrid enrollment process.

1. Apply for the PEP scholarship through Step Up For Students (EMA).
2. Withdraw as a home-ed student with your local school district and apply with SUFS as a PEP Hybrid program.
3. Contact Admissions to confirm PEP Hybrid availability, campus-day options, and tuition listed in the EMA Marketplace.
4. Create your Student Learning Plan (SLP) in EMA (required annually).
5. Pay tuition through EMA after funds are deposited quarterly (paid directly from your scholarship account).

6. Complete the annual assessment and upload results to EMA (we'll provide testing scores for you to submit).

Sample Weekly Schedule

Campus days: Students attend a minimum of two full school days per week for in-person learning and support.

Home learning days: Families continue instruction at home using the student's approved learning plan.

Additional support: Extra campus-day options may be available depending on current scheduling and program capacity.
