

ACF for the culinary enthusiast

If you're a culinary enthusiast who has a passion for the art of fine cuisine, the curiosity to learn about and meet the great chefs behind it, the desire to learn how dishes are made—from ancient traditions to the latest trends, then you should join the American Culinary Federation!

Culinary Enthusiast membership provides you a seat at the table and a spectator role in the kitchen through local, regional, and national events and publications. You can meet innovative chefs from around the world and experience exciting workshops and demos several times a year, attend competitions, and get involved!

As a member, you'll receive benefits like:

- The National Culinary Review magazine delivered digitally 10x/year
- The Culinary Insider e-news
- Sizzle quarterly digital magazine

In addition, you'll enjoy member advantages like direct buy privileges on GE Appliances, discounts on Nationwide insurance for home and auto, discounted LegalShield and IDShield programs, travel discounts and more! All this plus the opportunity to attend ACF events with registration fees discounted as much as $550!

Join ACF as a national Culinary Enthusiast member today for only $128!
