Welcome

I am thrilled to offer the World 3.0 community members the opportunity to develop their metaphysical capability - the ability to transmit knowledge and insight from The Source.

This experiential master class lovingly provides a new foundation for participants to access their infinite intelligence and access knowledge to transform their personal lives, relationships, family life and business initiatives. This metaphysical capability will power your spiritual growth. The skill and information can be used privately or, if called, to serve humanity. The choice is yours on how to use it. As you develop this new ability, loving kindness from your soul will guide your freedom, empowerment, and growth.

Over the years I have used this metaphysical capability to gain practical and extraordinary insight from The Source. This knowledge has been remarkably beneficial in both my professional and personal life as well as my spiritual journey and service to humanity. Most importantly the gift has taken me into a deeper loving partnership with my Soul - Higher Self or Divine Spark.

The course is structured with a curriculum that provides a solid educational foundation and carefully curated evolutionary experience. The current curriculum will be taught online, although we are planning a live in person two day seminar in 2025.

I invite you to explore the outline below to learn about the journey, the benefits and what you can expect. I look forward to us embarking on a precious journey, as we venture into a wonderful transformation experience with your eternal loving Soul.

Namaste,
Matthew James Bailey

Curriculum Overview

Introduction

Developing the capability to transmit knowledge is an intimate and playful journey with your Soul. You will venture on your own Hero's / Heroine's Journey starting by entering the gateway of curiosity to finally arriving into a magnificent new landscape of embodied freedom. As such, I take you thoughtfully and steadily through this extraordinary transformation.

Over the years, I have found that a collective group intelligence naturally develops, where Source Energy powerfully enables transformation at an individual and group level. Your Soul will have prepared every resource that is needed for you.

Below is the structure for the online course. We may swap a few things around, but the core curriculum remains the same. The language of Divine Spark - Soul - Higher Self - The Atman, Kami are all equivalent and we will use them interchangeably, throughout the course.

All participants will agree to a code of conduct in order to respect their fellow group participants.

What is Transmitting from The Source?

Lets lay this up in logical terms.

The Source exists outside and within space time. It is an infinite and eternal wellspring of knowledge, information and loving kindness. It is the origins of love which embodies the universal consciousness and intelligence that flows through everything within the seen and unseen planes of existence. The Source is a multi-dimensional omnipresence.

This is where your eternal self comes in. Your eternal and loving Soul exists within The Source. Yes, you are part of The Divine Source! Each one of us contains our very own special Spark of the Divine. As such our inner being, an eternal essence, has access to knowledge and information within The Source, about you, your Soul path, The Soul Family and the universe itself. Your Source Soul enables you to thrive as an organic and metaphysical multi-dimensional human being - the future of human evolution.

Therefore, transmitting from The Source is a partnership with your embodied Soul, using your metaphysical design to access knowledge and information. It is as simple as that!

By taking this master class you will activate and develop your metaphysical capability to access information from your Soul and directly from The Source.

Note: There are many terms for The Source, such as, the Divine, Buddha Nature, Brahman, Omni Kami, the Absolute, the All in All, the Great Spirit or Universal Mind. We use the term 'The Source' to be all encompassing.

Why Transmit from The Source and not Entities or other Beings?

I am a proponent of your sovereignty and nourishment of the loving relationship with your Soul to thrive in magnificence.

According to the Hermetic principle of 'as above, so below; as below, so above', means that every being whether on earth or in another galaxy or dimension is going through their own Soul path evolution. Everything is working through something as part of the Universal playground. So, why gain knowledge from another being that could be biased or has second hand information? Non beneficial agendas could be in play. I have seen this far too often. Having said that, some channelers of information are rock solid, providing remarkable insight, choosing the path to 'out-source' information from other entities or beings, rather going directly to their Source.

As someone who has transmitted knowledge from many different sources of information, whilst I have found this remarkable, it became abundantly clear that the most beneficial and enjoyable path is partnering with my Soul and going directly to The Source for first hand knowledge and information. This is the path of inner-authority and sovereignty. To be truly free and grow we must 'in-source' our knowledge and information. This is the evolutionary partnership that humanity is discovering as part of its metaphysical awakening.
