Our Programs

Child Abuse and Sexual Abuse Program

The Child Advocacy Center works as a multidisciplinary team with Department of Children's Services, law enforcement, and the District Attorney's Office to investigate and prosecute child abuse and child sexual abuse cases. Department of Children's Services protects children. Law enforcement investigates the crime. The District Attorney's Office chairs the team and aggressively prosecutes offenders. The Child Advocacy Center interviews child victims, provides crisis intervention counseling, assists families, helps children heal from the trauma, and helps families rebuild their shattered lives. In the last 25 years, the Child Advocacy Center has served 49,427 individuals and positively impacted the lives of 13% of the population of Rutherford and Cannon Counties.

Our Programs

Darkness to Light: Child Sexual Abuse Prevention Training

As parents and grandparents, we do everything we can to keep our kids safe. We make our children wear seat belts. We walk them across busy streets. We store toxic cleaners out of their reach. We ask our teenagers where they are going and who they will be with. Protecting children from child sexual abuse is also an adult responsibility. Since 2012, the Child Advocacy Center has utilized the nationwide Darkness to Light child sexual abuse prevention curriculum to educate 15,672 Rutherford and Cannon County adults how to protect children from child sexual abuse and what to do if a child reports abuse to them.

Drug Endangered Children Program

The Department of Children's Services refers every serious child abuse case they receive to the Child Advocacy Center, including referrals on children exposed to their parents' drug use. The Center provides parents addiction recovery services, educates children about addiction, and helps children pick up the pieces if their parents relapse and disappoint them. For 18 years, the Drug Endangered Children Program has helped parents reduce or eliminate their drug use, helped their children heal from the trauma, and break the generational cycle of addiction in their family.

Good times as “par” as the eye can see!

The Child Advocacy Center invites you to show your support for child abuse victims at the 14th Annual Turkey Tee Off, hosted at Smyrna Golf Course on Saturday, November 8, 2025.

Your team will start at 8 a.m. with a complimentary breakfast before teeing off at 9 a.m. Take a team photo, put your golf skills to the test, bid in a tee-rific silent auction, aim for a chance to win the $10,000 hole in one, try your luck at the 50/50 contest, and join us for lunch to round out your morning.

Become a sponsor and show your family, friends, and the community your commitment to child abuse in Rutherford and Cannon County! All proceeds from the golf tournament will help the Child Advocacy Center provide critically needed crisis intervention services for child abuse victims, child sexual abuse victims, and children who are exposed to their parent's drug abuse.
