FFPRR'S INTAKE PROCESS

INFO AND GUIDELINES

As a volunteer and foster based organization, we have to follow an intake process in order to ensure that we are able to adequately care for and rehome pets that are entrusted into our care. If you know of a pet needing assistance that may be a good match for our program here are some guidelines to follow for our intake process:

- Direct owners of owned pets to our website to fill out the "Animal Surrender Form" under the "Contact" tab
- Direct finders of stray animals to first contact their local animal services and then email us with information regarding the pet
- Local animal services or rescue facilities should email us directly
- Please do NOT post on the Facebook group or send private messages. All correspondence must go through email to our main account

*Please note that having a foster available does not guarantee admittance into the program, though it certainly helps! Other factors such as space at adoption events and current veterinary bills may influence this decision as well*

We do our best to help as many pets as possible and by following these guidelines, we can ensure that they are evaluated in an efficient manner.

LONG TERMER LOLANI NEEDS A FOSTER!

HELP US HELP HER FIND A FOREVER HOME!

Lolani came into the program from Jacksonville Animal Care and Protective Services. She had suffered from an unknown accident that caused severe damage to one of her hind limbs, resulting in an emergency amputation of the limb to save her life. After surgery, they reached out to us to see if we had room to take this sweet girl into the program and of course we said yes!

Lolani has adjusted well to life as a tripawd but would really love to find a family of her own soon. During a brief stay in foster care we learned that she is both active and snuggly, excited to go on walks and car rides, but equally down to snuggle the day away. She also showed us that she is crate and house trained!

While Lolani would do best as the only dog in the house, this doesn't keep her from being social out and about with her family. Although, we think she would be perfectly happy as a homebody as well. We do not know how she is with feline friends, but she's proven that she loves tiny humans ages 6 and up just as much as she does the bigger ones.

We are hoping to find Lolani at least a foster home soon so that we can learn more about her but a forever home would be even better! Please let us know if you can help Lolani out whether through fostering or marketing in any way!

so much love

MEDICAL CASE OF THE MONTH

HELP US COVER THE COSTS OF NUMI'S EMERGENCY SURGERY

Numi had to have emergency surgery on Labor day to remove her eye which had popped out of the socket. While the cause is unknown, the ophthalmologist thinks that trauma while playing with her littermates may have been the culprit. Unfortunately there were no options to save the eye, but thankfully the team at the University of Florida College of Veterinary Medicine was available on the holiday and able to perform the emergency surgery needed to relieve her pain and prevent infection.

Numi has recovered like a champ and hasn't slowed down one bit after losing an eye. We are so incredibly grateful for the team at UF CVM, but do need some help paying off the bills, as surprise bills like this can really put a dent in our life saving efforts. Her total cost was $1,536.61. Please consider making a donation if you are able and sharing her story from our Facebook page to help spread the word!

KELLY HILDERBRAND

JOIN US IN THANKING KELLY FOR ALL OF HER HARD WORK!

Kelly is no stranger to Faithful Friends and can be frequently found at our weekend adoption events helping out as a Pawsitively Perfect Puppy Patroller! She even gets her sons involved in animal welfare by bringing them along to volunteer at events and opening her home to puppy fosters. Kelly plays a vital role in helping train new volunteers and making them feel welcome and supported at adoption events. She is constantly looking for new ways to help the organization including helping with marketing and social media materials as well as organizing some deliciously successful bake sales! This past weekend the bake sale raised $654 to help our current and future Faithful Friends!!

We could never thank Kelly enough for all that she does to support and further the mission of Faithful Friends and appreciate all of the hard work and dedication that both she and her family put into this organization!
