Your Guide for the Vape Ban

A Comprehensive Overview

V1 March 2025

The disposable vape ban takes effect on 1st June 2025, requiring retailers to clear all stock beforehand.

After this date, any remaining disposables must be securely stored away from the shop floor, clearly marked as not for sale, and kept out of public view and staff access to avoid fines and trading restrictions.

2025 Disposable Vape Ban

What Retailers Should Know

What is the definition of a disposable or single use vape?

A disposable electronic cigarette device that is pre-filled with e-liquid and designed for one-time use. Once the e-liquid is consumed or the battery runs out, the device is discarded.

From 1st June 2025, all vaping products for sale must meet the specific legal and regulatory requirements for rechargeable devices as follows:

- Refillable Design: Any vaping device on the market must have a refillable container (no more than 10ml in size) or a pod system where the pod can be replaced separately.
- Rechargeable Compatibility: All devices must be rechargeable, with a USB port, eliminating the use of disposable, single-use vapes.
- Replaceable Coils or Pods: If a device contains a coil, it must either be replaceable or housed within a cartridge or pod that can be swapped out when necessary.

You must ensure that all products available for sale after the ban meet the required standards.

Retailers must provide compatible replaceable pods for any rechargeable vape devices they sell. Not providing refillable solutions for devices you sell is non compliant.

Also ensure your employees are well-equipped to answer customer questions and recommend legal rechargeable alternatives.

Penalties for Non-Compliance

Retailers found selling non-compliant vapes after the 1st June 2025 deadline may face severe legal consequences.

- Fixed Monetary Penalties (FMPs): Initial fines will start at £200, with the possibility of reduction to £100 if paid within 28 days.
- Continued Non-Compliance: Repeat offences may result in stop notices, preventing businesses from selling all vaping products.

Preparing for the Transition

The steps that you need to follow

Retailers must act now by stocking compliant products well in advance of the deadline to ensure a seamless transition. Proactive measures include:

- Optimising your new range with the best selling rechargeable devices containing at least 25% refillable pods within each range eg. 1 brand = 9 devices & 3 pods.
- Educating both staff and customers about the new regulations and legal alternatives, to guide consumers.
- Phasing out disposable vape stock and replacing it with long-term, compliant alternatives.

Retailers should start transitioning their stock now, reducing down the number of disposables on sale, keeping only the fastest selling lines, and moving towards compliant, rechargeable vaping products to continue meeting consumer demand while remaining within legal guidelines.

Enforcement & Record Keeping

Stock Purchase Records

NATIONAL TRADING STANDARDS

Protecting Consumers
Safeguarding Businesses

Retailers should keep detailed records, including invoices and receipts, to verify that all products were legally sourced. Trading Standards may conduct enforcement visits at any time, and maintaining well-organised records will help retailers demonstrate compliance with the law.

Recycling Bins

Despite disposables no longer being available, it is still a legal requirement. If you sell vape devices in store, you must provide a dedicated vape recycling bin. This is primarily for the discarding of the batteries at the end of their life cycle, as well as empty used pods.
