Dear Sea Commerce (America), INC. Team,

On behalf of our company as speaker and participant in the Methanol as Future Proof Marine Fuel seminars, we would like to express our sincere appreciation for the outstanding work that you have done in raising awareness of methanol in the marine industry.

Since 2018, Sea Commerce has organized a global series of 15 seminars that have brought together key stakeholders in the maritime industry to educate them on the regulatory, technical, and commercial aspects of methanol as a marine fuel. Your efforts have played a critical role in promoting the use of methanol as a sustainable and efficient marine fuel, and we are grateful for your commitment to this important cause.

In 2021 we had 23 LGIM Methanol burning engines in order, today we have 110. The knowledge sharing as you are initiating, is a big contribution to the success seen in the industry where Container vessels, Bulkers and Tanker is ordered for using e- Methanol in the future.

The seminars that you have organized have been invaluable in providing a platform for OEM engine makers, classification societies, methanol producers, and commercial operators of methanol vessels to come together and share their knowledge and expertise on this subject. Your dedication to educating the maritime industry on the benefits of methanol as a marine fuel has been truly remarkable, and we believe that your efforts have contributed significantly to the growing acceptance of methanol as a viable alternative to traditional marine fuels.

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to Sea Commerce (America), INC. for organizing these seminars and for being a driving force in promoting methanol as a marine fuel. Your work has been truly inspirational, and we look forward to continuing to work with you to promote the use of sustainable and efficient fuels in the maritime industry.
