Additional information:

We will be visiting several locations along the beautiful California coast for sunrise, sunset and all hours in between. This will be a full day of photography with a midday lunch break to replenish our energy.

The area is exceptionally rich for the nature photographer. Rolling sand dunes, rugged coastline, moss covered oak trees and a beautiful eucalyptus forest await the group. A boat tour of Morro Bay could be the perfect opportunity to photograph marine life including the adorable sea otter.

Participants need to have breakfast snack and easy to carry items to eat during the day, e.g., nutritional bars, fruit, nuts, etc. Participants need to bring water and/or a refillable water bottle. There will be a planned stop for lunch when appropriate during the day.

There will be restrooms stops throughout the day. At any time during the day participants can take a time out to pace themselves if needed. Some walking will be necessary, especially when we are at the Oceano Dunes. Finding places without footsteps, clean leading lines or undisturbed soil in sand could require some effort.

Required Minimum/Maximum: 10/14 participants
