

What Key Is That Song In?

C Major, A Minor, G Major, and E Minor, the four most common keys in pop music, and why they belong together.

in pop music,

C Major and A Minor share the same notes, just with a different emotional center. So do G Major and E Minor. These four keys cover a huge portion of the pop songs you already know.

C MAJOR / A MINOR SAME NOTES, DIFFERENT HOME

- All Too Well Taylor Swift
- Happier Than Ever Billie Eilish
- Daylight Harry Styles
- Save Your Tears The Weeknd
- Flowers Miley Cyrus
- Espresso Sabrina Carpenter
- Physical Dua Lipa
- Million Reasons Lady Gaga
- 7 Summers Morgan Wallen
- Delicate Taylor Swift
- Is There Someone Else The Weeknd
- Stay Rihanna
- Ready Steady Go Harry Styles
- The Lady in My Life Michael Jackson

G MAJOR / E MINOR SAME NOTES, DIFFERENT HOME

- Lover Taylor Swift
- Writer in the Dark Lorde
- Starboy The Weeknd
- Manchild Sabrina Carpenter
- Lane Boy Twenty One Pilots
- Workin' Day and Night Michael Jackson
- Willow Taylor Swift
- Ocean Eyes Billie Eilish
- Stressed Out Twenty One Pilots
- Heathens Twenty One Pilots
- Golden Harry Styles
- Summer Calvin Harris
- You Rock My World Michael Jackson
- Ghosts Michael Jackson

WANT TO UNDERSTAND HOW THESE CONNECT?

The Circle of Fifths Workbook + Group Program

Learn why these songs share chords, how keys are related, and how to play any of them on piano. Private lessons, bootcamps, and group programs available.

emma-dessa-music.com