FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SILENT FAITH - The Book We All Can Use In A Changed World

UPPER MARLBORO, MD, NOVEMBER 1 – “If you’re not careful, the world can silence your faith.” This is a profound statement and premise from the author of the new book, Silent Faith: Finding Assurance In The Hidden, which launched on today – National Authors Day.

Written by Wade Woolfolk, Silent Faith is for people who feel their faith is constantly under attack. This captivating, spiritual narrative tackles areas in our lives that try to silence our faith, such as money, friendships, bullying, dealing with our past, and much more. Through life examples and biblical scripture, Wade provides the reader with tools to use the word of God to come out of their battles with assurance and victory.

“We have been through a lot in the last couple of years,” said Wade Woolfolk. “A pandemic, political disfunction, injustice, social isolation – it’s been a perfect storm. I wrote Silent Faith to help encourage people to continue to give their faith a voice. The good news is that we live in a changed world, but our God remains the same.”

Silent Faith is available to order online at www.wadewoolfolk.com/books. All orders via the site are fulfilled through Amazon. The book is also available at Barnes & Noble, Thriftbooks, and at various events where the author is attending.

Wade Woolfolk is an author and deacon born in Washington, DC and raised in Prince George’s County, MD. A former lay servant in the United Methodist Church and a former county commissioner, Wade has always been passionate about service and helping others to see their potential in God. He has advocated for civil and human rights, breast cancer awareness, education, and homelessness. Wade is inspired by the fact that he is privileged to be used as an instrument of faith, encouragement, and hope by God. He is the Founder/CEO of Woolfolk Enterprises LLC – a small, minority-owned business focusing on spiritual content and consulting services for businesses and nonprofits. Wade is a proud graduate of Bowie State University with degrees in business and communications.
