Biography:

Traditional country lyrics with modern commercial appeal—songs built on honest stories, unforgettable hooks, and real emotion.

Art Adkins is a Florida-based lyricist whose songs are rooted in real life, heartfelt emotion, and authentic country storytelling. Drawing on a lifetime of experiences—from a distinguished 34-year law enforcement career to years as an author, businessman, and storyteller—he writes lyrics that connect with everyday people and the moments that define their lives.

Art's catalog focuses on traditional and contemporary country, blending themes of love, family, faith, perseverance, small-town life, and the American spirit. Whether it's a heartfelt ballad, a honky-tonk anthem, or a story song, his goal is always the same: write lyrics that sound honest, memorable, and ready for an artist to make their own.

In addition to writing lyrics, Art is the published author of several books, giving him a strong foundation in narrative writing and character development. His passion for storytelling naturally carries into his music, where every lyric is built around a compelling idea and emotional truth.

Art is actively seeking relationships with Nashville publishers, producers, artists, and song pluggers who are looking for commercially appealing country lyrics with strong hooks and meaningful stories. He welcomes opportunities to collaborate and place his lyrics with artists who appreciate authentic country music.

Lyric Sheet

My Heart Will Tell Me So

I've been searching for love
Been looking for a long time
Searching for that girl
The one I'm gonna make mine

I know she's out there
Just Waiting for me
I haven't found her yet
But I know God has made her specially

I'm caught in the middle Somewhere in between
Searching for that girl
Something I haven't seen

I'm not giving up
And I'm Not going fast
I'm gonna take it slow
To find a love that will last

I keep waiting for Cupid
To string his bow
Fit an arrow
Aim for my heart
And Let it go

Come on Cupid
Fire your bow
Let me find that girl
When I see her, I know
my heart will tell me so

I thought finding her would be easy
Like one, two, three
Two hearts calling to each other
For all eternity

I'll do the work to find her
I know it will be hard
But I will keep my hope burning
Like the brightest star

I've known people in love
Who were rich
And those who were poor
Those who were rich

Generally want more

Repeat Chorus

I'm gonna win at this game to find her
I know how to play my hand
When Cupid shoots his bow
I will be a happy man

I know this girl is the universal cure
The perfect remedy
I know she's out there
And Waiting for me

Love is a special thing
For two people to share
Life's secrets and treasures
Can also be theirs

I don't care about this world
And material things
I just want happiness
That true love brings

Repeat Chorus

We Believe in the USA

For 2 and a half centuries
The red, white, and blue has flown strong
We know what's right
We've learned from our wrongs

From the statue of liberty to the crack in the liberty bell
We're a country that loves our freedom
We know it so well

We are a country of many different races
This fourth of July
You'll see the smiles on their faces

We will never give up
We will never give in
We will never come in last
Because we will always win

We believe in the USA
We are the land of the free and brave
We will fight for our freedom
We want to live that way

Fifty stars and thirteen stripes
Old Glory is a sight to see
Reminds us of our freedom
Waving to you and me

From coast to coast
From north to south
We are a symbol for others
We are their sanctuary
We are sought out

Davy Crockett, George Washington
And Abraham Lincoln to name but a few
They helped us carve out a nation
We can hang onto

Now two and a half centuries
Have come and gone
But we are better now
And we will always be strong

Like the brightest star
In the dead of night

The future for the USA
Is bold and bright

We will continue to question
What is wrong and what is right
This is the USA and that's how we grow
We will find the answers to what is right
And then we will know

Repeat Chorus

Lyric Sheet

Passing of Time

I saw a shooting star arc across
The evening sky
I heard a coyote wail his Lonely, lonesome cry

My heart skipped a beat and stood still
For a moment in time
I couldn't chase the memory of you
From the echoes of my mind

So long ago, together
We were two
Then I had to endure the pain
Of losing you

Lonely and lost
I face each new day
A forgotten man trying to Make sure your memory never goes away

How come the passing of time hasn't helped me
How much more must I hurt
How much more must I bleed

I'm a broken man and
Who woulda believed
I bowed my head
Over a bended knee

How come the passing of time
Hasn't helped me

Many moons ago,
Husband and wife
We were two and
Then God called you

As the world turns
From winter snow
To summer rain
The seasons they change
And life you know
Can get so confused when it starts out
So carefully arranged

With every day that passes
When I close my eyes

I still can see your face
It is a memory
I don't ever want to erase

I know you are in Heaven
Where the angels sing
I know you will add to their spirit
The happiness you bring

One day I will join you
And sing your song
But until then
I just ask to help me be strong

Repeat Chorus
