Client-Facing Disclosure and Consent Clauses

Short form disclosure (engagement letter): We use secure cloud-based legal technology, including AI-assisted drafting and research tools operated under strict confidentiality and data protection safeguards. We will not disclose your confidential information beyond what is necessary to provide our services and will protect professional secrecy. Please let us know if you prefer us not to use such tools on your matter.

Short form authorization (where disclosure to a processor is necessary to perform services): You authorize us to use carefully vetted cloud processors and AI-assisted tools to process your information for the purposes of providing our services, subject to contractual and technical measures that preserve confidentiality and professional secrecy. We remain responsible for the work product and supervision.

Long form consent including international transfer (use only if required and appropriate): You acknowledge that to provide our services we may need to process certain of your information using secure third-party cloud tools, including AI-assisted systems. Where such processing involves access from countries without an adequacy decision, we will implement appropriate safeguards. Where no suitable safeguard is available, and only on an occasional basis, we may rely on your explicit consent for a specific transfer. By signing below you give your explicit consent for [description of specific transfer and data], having been informed of the potential risks of such transfers due to the absence of an adequacy decision and appropriate safeguards. You may withdraw consent at any time, which will not affect prior processing but may affect our ability to provide certain services.
