I have always felt a strong connection to the sea. Since I was young boy I have been on many boats. I got to know every inch of the boat especially the narrow engine room, which helped a lot along the way. Today I am still pursuing my career as a Skipper or Captain since this is what I am good at and what truly fulfills me. My main goal is for people to have a good time on board and I am also willing to teach them some sailing and nautical skills.

Here is a small video of a cruise where I was Captain:
