JW JOHNSON | #1 PRO PLAYER IN THE WORLD

WOOD

Wooden paddles are an excellent choice for new players. This paddle material choice offers stability and durability.

ALUMINUM

Aluminum paddles offer a thinner core approach that offer finesse and control to your game. A great step-up paddle choice.

POLYPROPYLENE

Referred to as a polymer or polypro core, this is a popular core construction choice. Polypropylene is a strong and durable material that offers flexibility, and a good balance between power and control.

FIBERGLASS

Used as surface layer, Fiberglass offers power and more responsiveness when the ball bounces off the pickleball paddle. Fiberglass is widely used and a good choice for players of all levels.

CARBON FIBER

Used as a surface layer, Carbon fiber surface layers offer more control and feel to your shots. Often found to dampen vibrations, carbon fiber is a good choice for players of all levels.

PERIMETER PROTECTION

Shields and protects the face of the paddle of maximum playability.

ENHANCED POLYMER CORE

A poly pro core offers enhanced sweet spot technology and the perfect balance between control and power.

PREMIUM CUSHION GRIP

Offers comfort and shock absorption.

MAX GRIT[®] FIBERGLASS

Textured surface technology that is designed to give maximum spin and help dampen vibration for optimal precision play.

NITRO INFUSED CARBON SURFACE

T700 surface layers are created by integrating the raw fibers to create a naturally textured surface layer that is durable and long lasting, and can help to generate spin.

A man in a red t-shirt is sitting on a chain-link fence, looking towards the camera. In the foreground, a large Franklin pickleball paddle is visible, angled towards the right. The paddle has a dark face with a textured surface and a black grip. The background is a bright, sunny outdoor setting with a chain-link fence.

CARBON STK™

Welcome to Carbon STK™ Tech: Where carbon fiber mixes with a high-end polymer core to create a paddle with both control and power synonymous with the Franklin® brand.

Premium T700 carbon fibers are integrated to create a long lasting naturally textured surface that creates maximum spin. Carbon STK™ tech produces just the right amount of surface stick, pop and power for an unforgettable court experience.
