PRAYER TO SAINT MICHAEL THE ARCHANGEL

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, thrust into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

This Weeks Gospel Mark 5:21-43

Lay Leanings

By Deacon Mike Stewart

He's there almost every morning; the shrill whistle makes his presence known. Since the park is so large, his dogs have room to run freely. They stand at attention by his side until he blows his whistle, at which they run full speed ahead until he blows the whistle again. With that command, the dogs stop in place, turn around and sit facing him, awaiting his next command. If he waves his arm left, the dogs run in that direction, and if he waves his arm right, the dogs obey. I marveled at the control he had over these animals, and I couldn't help but recall the story of Creation in the Book of Genesis, where God gave man dominion over all the creatures of the earth.

A couple weeks ago, I wrote about a very busy intersection, and how traffic signals were able to bring order to what would otherwise be chaos. In the witness of the man with his dogs, once again God brought to my attention the often overlooked, but astounding gift of our free will.

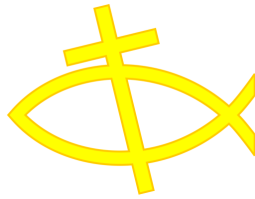

A few weeks ago, I was wrestling with a very challenging decision, and as is often the case when that happens, I found myself frozen in indecision. I pleaded with God to lift the seeming lack of clarity I was stuck in, and to help me move towards some sort of decision. What I really wanted, to be honest, was for God to make the decision for me, like the traffic signals at the busy intersection or the man with the dog whistle. 'Just tell me what to do, God'. But I've come to know my God well enough to understand that a lack of an answer is an answer in itself. In reality, I felt God encouraging me to use the free will he had gifted me, and to trust that, in whatever I decided, God would not abandon me.

Yes, it would be easier to have a God with a whistle, but the God who created you and I out of love, loves us too much NOT to give us freedom of mind and heart; even freedom to risk making a mistake. I guess that means I need to love God enough to trust him.

For God gave us a spirit not of fear but of power and love and self-control. 2 Tim 1:7

Fun Facts: The Story Of Jairus's Daughter In The Bible

The story of Jairus's daughter in the Bible is a fairly well-known story, and yet this short story holds so much hope and wisdom for us even today. Sadly scripture doesn't pass along this 12-year-old girl's name or much about her at all, we don't know what caused her illness that would take her life. We don't know what happened to her after Jesus healed her, but despite that, the story of Jairus's daughter gives us a wonderful look at God's love, and how much He cares for us. Let's take a look at the Bible verses about Jairus's daughter and get to know her story a little better.
