

ST. MICHAEL CATHOLIC CHURCH

Weekend of April 10 & 11, 2021

PRAYER TO SAINT MICHAEL THE ARCHANGEL

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, thrust into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

There's another vaccine that has the capacity to not only protect us, but to heal what is sorely lacking in our culture, and causing many to feel miserable. This vaccine is readily available; no need to register for it; and of course, it's entirely free. The vaccine is joy. In the interest of full disclosure however, it does have one side effect; it often leads to a spirit of kindness and hospitality.

This past week, our community lost a man of intense joy. Many people knew him, even if they didn't know his name. He was Michigan State Police Trooper Herman Brown. He was beloved among his fellow law enforcement community, but many in our wider community have felt his loss as well. Sure, he was a model police officer decorated for his service, but his most effective weapon was not in the holster on his belt. This man's smile was infectious, and his joy usually arrived ten minutes before he did. He had the capacity to diffuse tense situations, not through threats, though he could have, given his stature; rather, genuine concern for the people he served and the kindness he extended to all, made you feel better about yourself and about the world in which we live. He may have worn a badge, but he was a true minister of joy, kindness, and hospitality.

'A joyful heart is the normal result of a heart burning with love. She gives most who gives with joy.' ~Mother Teresa.

Look around you; maybe you needn't look further than the mirror; you can see it. Try an experiment for a day. Smile at the person in the car next to you at the stop light and see what happens. Tell the cashier at the grocery store or the wait staff at the restaurant how much you appreciate what they do; see how many manage a smile in return. It would be tempting to blame it on the pandemic, but let's be honest, we were 'infected' long before we ever heard of this thing called the coronavirus.

Sometime ago, I read an article that suggested that, so prevalent is anger, distrust, cynicism, and sadness, that joy is almost an act of resistance. No, seriously ... go ahead and try spreading joy for a day and see what happens. I promise you'll stick out as though you had a third eye.

As spring brings life to nature, joy is a light that can tear through the hardness of our time and culture. Go ahead ... try it, I dare you.

A joyful heart is the health of the body, but a depressed spirit dries up the bones. Proverbs 17:22

Fun Facts: Unlocking Doors-A week ago we celebrated the resurrection. There comes a time, however, when we must live the resurrection. That is not always easy. There are days when we prefer to just stay in bed, pull the covers over our head, and close out the world. Some days it seems easier and safer to lock the doors of our house and avoid the circumstances and people of our lives. Sometimes we just want to run away, hide, and not deal with the reality of our lives.

Every time, however, we shut the doors of our life, our mind, or our heart we imprison ourselves. For every person, event, or idea we lock out, regardless of the reason, we lock ourselves in. That's what has happened to the disciples in today's gospel. It is Easter evening, the first day of the week, the day of the resurrection, the day they saw the empty tomb, the day Mary Magdalene announced, "I have seen the Lord." The disciples are gathered in the house, the doors are locked with fear. A week later they are in the same place. It is the same house, the same walls, the same closed doors, the same locks. Nothing much has changed.

Jesus' tomb is open and empty, but the disciples' house is closed and the doors locked tight. The house has become their tomb. Jesus is on the loose and the disciples are bound in fear. The disciples have separated themselves and their lives from the reality of Jesus' resurrection. Their doors of faith have been closed. They have shut their eyes to the reality that life is now different. They have locked out Mary Magdalene's words of faith, hope, and love. They left the empty tomb of Jesus and entered their own tombs of fear, doubt, and blindness. The locked doors have become the great stone sealing their tomb. They have locked themselves in. The doors of our tombs are always locked from the inside. All this, and it has been only one week.
