Weekend of January 21 & 22, 2023

Established 1917

PRAYER TO SAINT MICHAEL THE ARCHANGEL

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, thrust into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

Are You Coming?

Matthew 4:12-23

3rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

Matthew 4:12-23

Jesus begins to preach in Galilee and calls his first disciples.

Background on the Gospel Reading

Today's Gospel describes the beginning of Jesus' public ministry. In the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, and Luke (called the Synoptic Gospels), Jesus' public ministry begins after his baptism by John the Baptist and after his retreat to the desert where he was tempted by the devil. When Jesus returns from the desert, he hears that John has been arrested.

The first part of today's Gospel places Jesus' ministry in the context of the writings of the prophet, Isaiah. Matthew wants to show that Jesus is the fulfillment of the prophecies given to the people of Israel, and he refers to Isaiah to do so. Isaiah says that the Messiah will begin his ministry in Galilee, the land of the Gentiles. When Jesus begins to preach in Galilee, Matthew points to his ministry as a fulfillment of Isaiah's prophecy, proof that Jesus is the Messiah.

When Jesus called his first disciples, the Gospel tells us that the fishermen (Peter and Andrew, James and John) dropped everything to follow Jesus immediately. Yet this Gospel tells us little about the prior experience that the fishermen had of Jesus. Did they know him? Had they heard him preach? What kind of person must Jesus have been to invoke such a response? We can imagine that Jesus was a powerful presence to elicit a response as immediate and complete as these first disciples gave.

The Gospel concludes with a description of the ministry that Jesus begins in Galilee. Jesus inaugurates the Kingdom of God with his work. He teaches in the synagogue and preaches the kingdom. His ability to cure people's diseases and illness is a sign of the kingdom. In Jesus' ministry, we already begin to see the Kingdom of God among us.

Lay Leanings

By Deacon Mike Stewart

Success is a journey, not a destination. Most of us have heard this quote used in many different ways, but the point is unmistakable ... if all we care about is the end game, then we're sure to lose sight of how we got there.

I dislike games (I'd say 'hate' but I'd get in trouble, since we banned the word from our house when the kids were little). I don't have an ounce of competitive spirit, so I tend to find games boring and often never-ending. What's even harder than endlessly playing games is telling my grandsons that I won't play with them. It's usually less painful just to play. So, true to form, Grampy caved in, and to my horror they chose the most endless of all games on the planet ... Monopoly (or Monotony, as I call it).

I felt like I lost a year of my life in just watching the boys set the game up. Each of them had a different idea of how it was supposed to be done ... none of them were right, of course. And yet, once the game started, I was fascinated in watching how each of them played. In particular, it was interesting how their individual strategies reflected their unique personalities. The oldest took the careful approach, playing conservatively, and not over-extending himself. His brother took a very aggressive approach, buying up all he could so that he could begin stiffing us for rent if we had the unfortunate luck to land on one of his properties. However, his over-confident strategy nearly caused him to run out of money early in the game. The last brother honestly didn't appear to have a strategy at all. Rather, he just seemed to enjoy playing the game and being with Grampy and his brothers. Winning didn't seem to matter much to him at all.

On my ride home, I marveled at just how this game episode mirrored our lives of faith. No matter where you and I are on the journey of faith, let's be honest ... the ultimate goal for believers in this life should be to spend eternity in heaven. And yet, if that's true, then many of us have some pretty weird approaches as to how to get there. Sadly few, it seems, take the approach to living life as if the journey to eternal life happens right here ... giving little or no thought to the reality that what we do here on earth matters in the ultimate goal of getting to heaven. Yes, Jesus took my sins to the cross, but I still bear the responsibility for choosing to follow him straight to heaven.

Jesus said to him, "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me."
