Project Overview

TDP Group carried out a rebranding programme at Stoke High School, Ipswich, changing the aluminium window frames from blue to the school's new branding colour black. The works create a consistent look with other works previously completed across the school.

Project Highlights

- Aluminium window frames professionally sprayed from blue to black
- High level access and scaffolding provided
- Works completed over a weekend to avoid disruption to students and staff
- Consistent finish to match other areas of the school
- Delivered on time and within budget

The Challenge

The works needed to be completed within a short timeframe during a school closure period to avoid disruption to students and staff. High level access was required, and the new finish had to align with the school's updated branding and other recent works carried out on site.
