

Days of Summer
I never forget are...

Home > Entertainment > Arts > Association to present world music and dance on eve of Diwali

ARTS ◊ ENTERTAINMENT ◊ EVENTS ◊ MUSIC ◊ NEWS

Association to present world music and dance on eve of Diwali

By ThisIsReno | October 19, 2013

Ad

Download Now | Open
PDF

OPEN

17
SHARES

Share

Tweet This

Email

Post

Subscribe

Messenger

TACH NEWS RELEASE

Ads by Google

Stop seeing this ad

Why this ad? ▾

Applauding the region's healthcare
providers and essential workers during our sounds of silence.

RenoJazzOrchestra.org

TRENDING

Reno Police restrict news media from documenting homeless camp cleanup...

Displaced during the pandemic, a small homeless camp gets swept...

Lake Tahoe: Restrictions ease, but some limitations
still in place

Nevada to ramp up COVID-19 contact tracing

Despite pandemic, hotel

World-renowned artist Chakrapani Singh, who resides in Reno, is trying to establish a music school similar to the Ali Akbar College of Music in San Rafael and San Francisco. He has established the Traditional Association for Cultural Harmony \(TACH\), which does global artist management, an cultural exchange program, music education, fusion music collaboration and development, a seminar and music competitions. It is open to promote all aspects of music and its related cultural promotions.

In this time where all the artists are running toward the big cities, Chakrapani Singh has selected a small city, Reno, so that he can bring music awareness and bring music to such a place where no one wants to think about the music lovers residing in Reno.

His organization TACH brings world music and dance on the eve of Diwali (a festival of light and grace) with the collaboration of Indo-American residents of Reno and its borders. For the first time in Reno there will be a kind of program in which people can find music, dance, celebration and much more. This celebration is going to be at Laxalt auditorium, Warren Nelson Building, 401 W. 2nd St., Reno, on Nov. 2, at 4 p.m.

17
SHARES

Share

Tweet

Email

Post

Subscribe

Messenger

THISISRENO

This Is Reno is your source for independent, online Reno news and events since 2009. We are locally owned and operated. #thisisreno

f t v i m

17
SHARES

f t

e

g

+

x

(videos...)

AD PARTNER UPDATES

Henry Sotelo Law: Experience (ad)

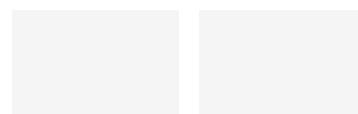

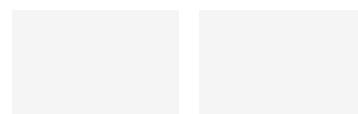

I'VE HEARD ABOUT SEXUAL HARASSMENT AT WORK... BUT I DIDN'T EXPECT IT IN MY OWN APARTMENT.

Silver State Fair Housing Council is available to assist you

775.324.0990

PR & SPONSORED CONTENT

Want to see your news or event featured here?

Purchase a sponsored post.
Meal Prep Reno: A healthy delivery that gives back (sponsored) Nevada primary election sees early voter turnout (sponsored)

National Automobile Museum re-opens to the public (sponsored) Facts vs. myths for the 2020 primary election (sponsored)
SUPPORT THIS IS RENO

HELP! Our journalists are funded directly by our readers. Please help by becoming a subscriber. Subscribers see less advertising and get access to all articles. Or contribute a tax-deductible donation to our COVID-19 local news fund, which pays for ongoing reporting on COVID-19's impacts to the Reno community.

SubscribeDonate17
SHARES

