ADVANCED CARDIAC LIFE SUPPORT

Our AHA ACLS Instructor course prepares you to teach ACLS at the highest national standard. ACLS Instructor class participants will be versed in AHA regulations and documentation standards, as well as teaching strategy and course execution.

ACLS instructor Course involves online training and in-person skills verification. Instructor alignment with SMR is required upon successful completion at no additional cost. Instructor candidate monitoring will be offered upon course completion. ACLS Provider certification renewal is also available at no additional cost.

We offer weekend classroom and equipment rental with drop-off and pick-up services to our aligned instructors. SMR will carry a liability insurance policy in the instructor's name when conducting courses on SH Medical Group property.

Seats are limited. Preference given to AHA Instructors currently aligned with SMR.

COURSE CONTENT:

- Overview of recently published AHA 2025 Guidelines
- How to navigate Atlas
- ACLS Instructor materials and equipment
- Course Organization
- Written exam & skills testing
- Instructor renewal process
- Training site specifics
- HeartCode ACLS and Blended Learning
- Initial vs Renewal ACLS Certification

PROCESS OF BECOMING AN ACLS INSTRUCTOR:

- Complete SMR Course Registration.
- Complete AHA Instructor Candidate Application.
- Have current AHA BLS & ACLS Provider certification.
- Complete ACLS Instructor Essentials Course online.
- Complete 2025 ACLS Instructor Update Course online.
- Confirm registration on AHA ATLAS website.
- Submit course payment.
- Successfully complete classroom portion of the ACLS Instructor Course.
- Be monitored by AHA Faculty while teaching an ACLS course. This will be accomplished on day 2 of the course.
- Submit copies of documents prior to class.

TRAINING CENTER ALIGNMENT:

AHA requires instructor candidates to align with an authorized Training Center or Training Site that accepts new instructors. Candidates who complete this course shall be offered alignment with SMR upon completion of all certification requirements.

The ACLS Instructor course is intended to equip instructor candidates with the skills needed to teach AHA Instructor-led and blended learning classes. It covers how to effectively use AHA teaching resources, ensure students achieve learning objectives, student coaching, objectively evaluate skills performance, and adhere to AHA Instructor and course guidelines. The Instructor Essentials Course is an online, self-paced program tailored to each discipline and is managed and paid for through the AHA. The SMR ACLS instructor course bridges the gap from BLS instructor to advanced topics covered in ACLS.

AHA courses are accredited for continuing education in the following professions, among many more:

- AMA-Physicians,
- AAPA-Physician Assistants
- AANP-Nurse Practitioners
- ANCC-Nurses
- ACPE-Pharmacists

Credits are claimed on the AHA website but there are time limits of 30 days to 6 months depending on the accrediting agency.
