PEDIATRIC ADVANCED LIFE SUPPORT

Our AHA PALS Instructor course prepares you to teach PALS at the highest national standard. PALS Instructor class participants will be versed in AHA regulations, documentation standards, as well as teaching strategy and course delivery.

PALS Instructor Course involves online training, lecture, and in-person skills verification. Instructor alignment with SMR is required upon successful completion at no additional cost. Instructor candidate monitoring shall be offered upon in-person course completion. PALS Provider certification renewal is also available at no additional cost on day 2 of the course.

20% discount for instructor candidates who have previously completed an AHA instructor course through SMR.

COURSE CONTENT:

- Review of recently published AHA 2025 Guidelines
- Navigating Atlas
- PALS instructor materials & equipment
- Course organization
- Written exam & skills testing
- Instructor maintenance process
- Training site policies
- HeartCode PALS Blended Learning
- PALS Provider certification maintenance

PROCESS OF BECOMING AN ACLS INSTRUCTOR:

- Complete SMR Course Registration.
- Complete AHA Instructor Candidate Application.
- Have current AHA PALS Provider certification.
- Complete PALS Instructor Essentials Course online.
- Complete 2025 PALS Instructor Update Course online (Unless 2025 PALS Instructor Essentials course is released prior to course date).
- Confirm AHA registration on AHA ATLAS website.
- Submit course payment. Due prior to course date.
- Successfully complete lecture & skills verification on day 1 of the PALS Instructor Course.
- Be monitored by AHA Faculty while teaching a PALS course (Day 2 of course).
- Submit copies of documents prior to class. Please ensure all requested documents are TYPED. All forms are “PDF Fillable Forms” (info@SMRTraining.com).

TRAINING CENTER ALIGNMENT:

AHA requires instructor candidates to align with an authorized Training Center or Training Site that accepts new instructors. Candidates who complete this course shall be offered alignment with SMR upon completion of all course requirements.

The PALS Instructor Course is intended to equip instructor candidates with the skills required to teach AHA instructor-led and blended learning courses. This course covers effective use of AHA teaching resources and proper techniques to complete course learning objectives. Instructor candidates practice student coaching methods and demonstrate evaluation of student skills performance. The Instructor Essentials Course is an online, self-paced program tailored to each discipline and is administered and paid for through the AHA. The SMR PALS instructor course bridges the gap from BLS instructor to advanced concepts necessary to competently deliver PALS provider courses.
