Monday (Sunday afternoon) Morning Musings

What a LORD's Day!

On the way to the Grove, a moderate snowfall turned into a winter storm in the 26 miles from our house to the church building. While driving in, we received a text message saying our guest missionary could not make it because of the weather.

Marta and I pulled into the church parking lot, and Brenda P. waited in her car for us to unlock the church. But, unfortunately, that sweet saint couldn't find the snow shovel and used a broom to sweep 2-3 inches of snow from the walks.

Our pianist (who lives further away than me) wisely returned home after just a few miles. But, good call, Linda, the drive back after worship and fellowship was a white nightmare!

One guitarist, one drummer, two singers, and a former piano student practiced and were ready for the complete set of worship songs. Thank you, Bruce, Devan, Patty, Jyl, and Denise, for making it happen.

Oh! The projector wasn't working, so Jordan had to get into the cold attic to reboot it.

Sixteen saints made it through the snow to worship. Zora Gordan told me years ago about her husband, Russell. Occasionally on a snowy Sunday, he would hitch up horses to their sleigh, grab some quilts and blankets and pick up friends to ride with them to worship at the Grove.

Yes, God was praised, and we worshipped in spirit and truth!

We sang, prayed, had the Lord's Supper, gave our offerings, the word preached, and God praised!

Today was our annual Souper-Sunday fellowship. Small group this year, several wanted to get home and beat the worsening weather. Those that remained had good food, friendly conversation, and sweet fellowship.

Everyone made it home slowly and safely.

Yes, what a LORD's Day!

May Jesus Christ be praised.
