Reasonable Accommodation in Hiring

Qualified applicants may request a reasonable accommodation to participate in the application or interview process. A request for accommodation will not be used to discriminate against an applicant. Accommodations are considered individually in accordance with applicable law.

Employment decisions based on qualifications, performance, safety and legitimate business requirements

Effective date: September 8, 2026

SkyHire360, Inc. is committed to equal employment opportunity. SkyHire360 does not discriminate unlawfully in recruiting, hiring, compensation, training, assignment, promotion, discipline, termination, or any other term or condition of employment.

Employment decisions are made without unlawful regard to race, color, religion, sex, pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, military status, or any other status protected by applicable federal, state, or local law.

Reasonable Accommodation

Employment, Job Posting and Benefits Disclaimer

Important information about opportunities advertised by SkyHire360

Effective date: September 8, 2026

Employer and Operational Assignment

Unless a posting expressly states otherwise, SkyHire360, Inc. is the hiring and employing company. SkyHire360 employees may be assigned exclusively to support AeroSmart Enterprise LLC operations. AeroSmart Enterprise LLC's participation in qualification, safety, compliance, training, or operational-assignment decisions does not change the employing entity identified in the employee's written offer and onboarding documents.

Job Postings

Job descriptions summarize anticipated responsibilities and qualifications. They are not contracts and may not list every duty or requirement. Positions, schedules, locations, reporting relationships, responsibilities, compensation, and qualifications may be changed, paused, filled, or withdrawn based on business and operational needs, subject to applicable law.

Compensation and Benefits

Compensation and benefit descriptions are general recruiting summaries. Actual eligibility, coverage, costs, waiting periods, exclusions, contribution levels, paid time off, travel support, retirement benefits, pet insurance, technology, training support, and other terms are governed by the applicable written offer, official plan documents, policies, insurance contracts, and applicable law. If website language conflicts with an official document, the official document controls to the extent permitted by law.

Wings-to-Career Pilot Program

The SkyHire360 Wings-to-Career Pilot Program is a selective career-development opportunity for eligible employees. Any reference to company-supported flight training or potential assistance of up to $60,000 describes a maximum potential benefit, not an automatic entitlement, cash payment, or guarantee. Actual support may depend on eligibility, performance, attendance, approved-school pricing, available funding, prior experience, satisfactory progress, medical certification, written program terms, and business needs.

SkyHire360 intends the program to create a pathway toward employment in an available pilot position for successful participants. Completion of training does not guarantee placement. Any pilot position remains subject to FAA licensing and medical requirements, experience minimums, insurance requirements, training and checking, background and drug-and-alcohol requirements, safety standards, operational needs, and availability of an approved position.

No Contract or Guarantee

Nothing on the website creates an employment contract, a promise of employment for a particular duration, a guarantee of an interview or offer, or an entitlement to compensation, benefits, training, promotion, or assignment. Any binding commitment must be contained in an authorized written agreement or official plan document.

Questions

Questions about a particular position or benefit may be directed to info@skyhire360.com or 689-297-7665.
