“Expressions of a different perception.”

From a young age, I displayed a talent and passion for art. However, following the sudden and tragic loss of my father, life transformed into a surreal journey. I embarked on an endless quest for meaning, truth, and beauty. The art I produce remains distinctive, experimental, and daring, reflecting my background, training, and experiences. This unique perspective on life is captured in my mixed-media pieces, each representing a part of my journey.

“I warmly invite you to accompany me on my journey to discover the beauty in life. I wish you all the best and hope you continue to find joy in my work.”
