ARTIST

The love of art in many forms was sparked in my early childhood years. I'm thankful for being able to try many mediums but in the last several years watercolor painting has been a wonderful discovery. Watercolor allows much freedom. Sometimes you guide it and other times it shows you the path of the painting.

Moving to Arizona in 2001 from the Kansas City area it took me awhile to see the beauty of the desert. I've discovered that there is always something blooming and that is the inspiration for my mostly floral and landscape paintings.

Memberships include Willcox Art League and San Pedro River Arts Council.

Currently I have paintings in Endeavor Gallery, Benson Arizona
