

INFORMED CONSENT FOR ONLINE THERAPY

This is informed consent for the use of video technology for online therapy. Read it thoroughly for understanding and ensure all your questions are answered before signing to give consent.

- Online therapy or teletherapy is defined as the use of technology to have a therapy session. We will use FaceTime, Zoom, doxy.me or Skype, that uses video and audio technology through a webcam on your device and my device to connect us securely.
- The benefits of teletherapy include the convenience of location, time, wait times, and accessibility which allows for better continuity of care. In addition, teletherapy allows for greater accessibility to services for clients with limited mobility or with lack of transportation.
- With all technology, there are also some limitations. Technology may occasionally fail before or during our session. The problems may be related to internet connectivity, difficulties with hardware, software, equipment, and/or services supplied by a 3rd party.
- Any problems with internet availability or connectivity are outside the control of the therapist and the therapist makes no guarantee that such services will be available or work as expected. If something occurs to prevent or disrupt any scheduled appointment due to technical complications and the session cannot be completed via online video, the therapist will either use the in-session video chat to trouble shoot or will call me back to complete the session.
- If, for any reason, I am in an immediate crisis or a potentially life-threatening situation, I will get immediate emergency assistance by calling 911.
- I agree to take full responsibility for the security of any communications or treatment on my own computer and in my own physical location. I understand I am solely responsible for maintaining the strict confidentiality of my user ID and password and not allow another person to use my user ID to access the Services. I also understand that I am responsible for using this technology in a secure and private location so that others cannot hear my conversation.
- I understand that there will be no recording of any of the online session and that all information disclosed within sessions and the written records pertaining to those sessions are confidential and may not be revealed to anyone without my written permission, except where disclosure is required by law. I understand that I am not allowed to do any recording, screenshots, etc. of any kind, of any session, and are grounds for termination of the client-therapist relationship.
